MRS. RAYMOND CAPOBIANCO

"There's never an idle moment in my life now and I hope there never will be. As long as I'm helping others I'll always be happy!"

The dynamic woman with iron gray hair sat on the edge of the davenport as she talked. Her blue eyes radiated enthusiasm, zest for life and interest in others. Yes, Mrs. Raymond Capobianco was brimful of creative energy. And this quality has long been valued by her many friends, by organizations seeking willing workers and by her beloved community of Newton Upper Falls.

Born in Italy and brought to this country when a baby, Addie Capobianco has become an integral part of the Upper Falls neighborhood. She and her husband, known as "Mr. Cap," met each other as children. Years later they met again at a relative's funeral but did not recognize each other at first. She admired the landscaping he had done about the house. It was one of the many mutual interests that drew them together.

Today the 12 room buff colored house at 92 Thurston road is famous for its neighborliness and for the giant pansies which are raised for sale. As Addie says, "My husband is a born horticulturist with a green thumb." Their three children are nicknamed "Cappy." Florence is a secretary during the day and a student at Boston University evenings. Thomas Anthony is a senior at Newton High. Raymond Joseph is a sophomore. When Florence joined the Girl Scouts, Mrs. Capobianco soon found herself Village chairman for the group. The two boys, not to be outdone by their sister, decided that Mother should have a little Cub Scout training, too, as a Den Mother. This assignment was to last 5 years.

Mrs. Capobianco's interests have become community wide. A roster of her club affiliations reads this way: Newton Upper Falls Garden Club, Jamaica Sewing Circle, Echo Circle, Foresters of America, Officers association of Eastern Massachusetts, Massachusetts Catholic Women's Guild, Emerson School Parent-Teachers Association, Newton League of Women Voters, 12th District Past Presidents' Club, Presidents' Club of Massachusetts and the Newton Upper Falls Improvement Association. She has worked for many Red Feather Services. In addition, she was county agent for her section of Middlesex County during the war, promoting Victory Gardens and canning demonstrations. Last year she was Village Chairman for the children's Hospital campaign, headed in Newton by Horace U. Ransom, Jr. For this she worked with Mrs. Harold C. Vlass, Mrs. Edward C. Roberts and Mrs. Thomas E. Dorrance to raise a large sum of money.

Currently Mrs. Capobianco's biggest civic job is president of the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club with its 153 members. "The conservation committee has been my pet project," she explained, "because no matter where, what or when, you try to do anything in this universe you deal with conservation. I went on the committee years ago to help a friend for a year. Then I stayed on conservation committee 10 years, leaving only to become club president."

"Our club's objectives are service to the community, cordial cooperation among women and promotion of education and progress. We work in many ways. We supply the school nurse with cod liver oil, children's clothing or whatever she needs in her work. Through the Parent-Teacher's Association we have been successful in securing a playground for the children of the neighborhood."

"Do you like to entertain?" I asked.

"Oh, my favorite way is to have friends to luncheon with bridge or whist afterwards. Cooking is great fun, you see!"

"Then won't you pass along some recipes?"

"One of my favorites is a Welsh rarebit to serve piping hot over toast or crackers. Then I have a Never Fail Sponge Cake. I make it this way... Beat 3 eggs and 1 cup sugar together for 10 minutes. Sift together 1 cup of flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder and a pinch of salt. Mix well and add 1/4 cup cold water and 1 teaspoon lemon extract. Bake in moderate oven 30 minutes. And don't open the oven the entire time!"

"Do you know of any preserves one could make at this season?"

"I have a mid-winter jam that's wonderful! I mix 2 cups crushed ripe bananas, 2 cups crushed pineapple and 7 1/2 cups sugar. Blend well in a large kettle and bring to a full rolling boil over a hot fire. Stir constantly before and while boiling. Boil hard 1 minute. Remove from fire and stir in a bottle of Certo. Skim and pour quickly into sterilized glasses."

MRS. RAYMOND CAPOBIANCO

One of Mrs. Capobianco's traits that make her so admired is the habit of giving credit to others. She was full of praise for the American Home committee of the Upper Falls Woman's club which is guided by Mrs. John Donlon, chairman, and Mrs. Austin W. Flint, assistant. "Their work in dressmaking and rug hooking is beautiful beyond description! Miss Gertrude Osborne is working faithfully to keep our club art minded with displays of pottery, trays and Madonnas. Mrs. C. Edward Powers and Miss Nellie M. Osborne are supervising the big job of making and filling veterans bags, knitting, sewing and packing bundles for Europe. And Mrs. G. Louis Marcy, chairman of the dramatic committee, is preparing a program for the club's 29th birthday in April. It will be a play, 'Nothing But The Truth,' to be given in conjunction with the Parent-Teacher Association at the Emerson school."

There is still time in Mrs. Capobianco's life for hobbies—reading, tray painting, photography, sewing, crocheting and collecting vases. "I occasionally play the piano, too. I like the old songs and light operas best." Her eyes twinkled behind her glasses. "If the boys groan at my playing, my comforting answer is that I practice to keep the piano in tune!"

"Do you like to entertain?" I asked.

"Oh, my favorite way is to have friends to luncheon with bridge or whist afterwards. Cooking is great fun, you see!"

The Directors room has been enlarged, new chairs purchased and the decorative scheme altered. Reference was also made to a number of additions to the type of services rendered to clients of the Bureau, with special emphasis on the impact of the war on the normal routine of work.

The Treasurer, Mr. Gordon B. Russell, then gave his annual report, showing that $509.75 of the total of $33,200.00 allotted to the Bureau by the Community Chest for the year's operations had been returned to the Chest.

Girl Scouts Prepare Clothing Kits For Needy European Children

Two of the first Newton Girl Scout Clothing kits for European children are being assembled here by Mary Keenan of West Newton and Betty Lee of Newton. Under the sponsorship of the Newton Public Relations Committee, Brownies, Intermediate and Senior Scouts are beginning plans to fill 200 kits, two from each troop, in cooperation with the National project to cloth by this means, during the next year, 100,000 destitute children in Europe.

Tuesday evening at the Brownie Leaders' Meeting held at the Newtonville Library, under the chairmanship of Mrs. John W. Young, the leaders discussed the details of this service program in building better international friendship and understanding. Mrs. Dwight P. Merrill, public relations chairman brought a sample kit to the meeting. She emphasized the fact that all clothing must be clean and in good repair. Both new and used articles may be included in the kit which is to be planned as a complete summer or winter wardrobe for a boy or girl of any chosen age from infancy to 14. The plans for two kits from each of Newton's 99 troops will be made in each group by girls, leaders, and troop committees working together. All will help with collecting, cleaning, mending, packing and mailing. As Brownies and Girl Scouts outgrow winter clothes that are still good, spring assembling of kits would be opportune, suggested Mrs. Merrill. Detailed directions for the clothing needed, in each kit, mailing procedure through the Friends Service Committee, and reporting the completion of kits in fulfilling our quota are to be found in the November "Girl Scout Leader" and in the February "New Cogs".

Also participating in the program of the Leaders meeting were Mrs. Franklin Cross of Auburndale who discussed the identification of common evergreens as part of the Brownie Nature program, and Mrs. Joseph Schaffer who presented the plans for the collection of the contributions to the Juliette Low Memorial Fund, used to promote the international friendship program of Girl Scouting.

W Newton Women's Educational Club

The next meeting of the West Newton Women's Educational Club will be held on February 13 in the Second Church Parish House, West Newton.

Dessert will be served at 1 p. m., and will be followed by a business meeting conducted by Mrs. Charles E. Gibson.

New England Sea Tales will be presented by Edward Rowe Snow, historian and author. Colored slides and moving pictures accompany the lecture. Lt. Snow, who visits the lighthouses as New England's own Flying Santa Claus, tells many interesting legends, true stories and strange occurrences connected with the sea.

Following this program, the Ways and Means Committee will sponsor a demonstration and sale of paper products.

Newton Community Club

The next meeting of the Newton Community Club will be held on Thursday, Feb. 12, at 2 p. m. in the Underwood School Auditorium.

Esta Barr, who is a fingerprint expert, criminologist, scientist, writer and lecturer, will be the guest speaker. She has been officially recognized for her work in legal cases by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. Her interesting and informative lecture discloses surprising secrets of health which fingerprints reveal. She is a dynamic speaker and tells of startling facts science has discovered in skin markings.

March of Dimes Continued Another Week

Because of transportation and winter difficulties the March of Dimes was continued for another week. Many of the school collections were made this week. There is still the time and opportunity to mail in the cards which were mailed to the homes. The process of counting the returns is now underway but figures as to receipts are not yet available. A full and complete report on the collection will be made to the contributing public as soon as the record is complete. Chairman Donald Frail expresses his appreciation to the many workers and contributors in the City of Newton. It is hoped that the results of last year's drive will be exceeded; the co-operation of merchants, factories, schools, theatres has been especially fine.

Lucy Jackson Chapt., D.A.R.

The monthly meeting of Lucy Jackson Chapter will be held on the afternoon of February ninth at the Chapter House in Newton Lower Falls with Mrs. James G. Patterson, Regent, presiding.

By courtesy of the Colonial Beacon Oil Company Mr. C. P. Charles will speak on "Strange Gods on India."

FOR A

BETTER WORLD

Should you ever visit a nation abroad—a democratic nation—you will discover Boy Scouts. Likely as not, they will be doing something useful in the field of service to others—the daily "Good Turn," for example and "learning by doing," vital to themselves, their nation and the world.

Almost identical here and overseas, the Scout Oath and Law binds members of the Movement in a World Brotherhood. A code of honor, it is subscribed to freely by the sons of free men, regardless of nationality, creed or color.

The Boy Scouts of America has a membership now of more than 2,000,000 boys and men. Since its founding, thirty-eight years ago this month, it has influenced more than 14,000,000—10% of America's present population.

Because of Scouting's Service, this is a better America and a better world. Let us have more Scouting locally. The way is open to all of us by supporting our Boy Scout Council.

Community Chorus Holds First Annual Meeting

The Community Chorus of the Newtons, Inc., which was duly incorporated as a non-profit civic benefit organization under Massachusetts Statutes in November, 1947, held their first annual meeting in the Assembly room of the F. A. Day Junior High School under the leadership of the president, Hartley B. Gardner.

Unanimous vote of commendation was given Secretary Mary E. Bowler with acceptance of her colorful report of three Chorus highlights since its creation early in 1946; Out-door Christmas Concert on the steps of Newton War Memorial Building, Tuesday evening, December 17, 1946; Spring Concert at Totem Pole Ballroom, Tuesday evening, May 20, 1947; and incorporation, concluding that Christmas Concert in High School Auditorium, Tuesday evening, December 23, 1947, would have been the fourth and ever-increasingly more successful one had the weatherman cooperated.

A panel of thirteen Directors for the ensuing year, recommended by President Gardner's Nominating Committee, was duly elected comprising: C. Hassler Capron, Orville O. Clapper, Roy S. Edwards, members of the original Governing Board; Hartley B. Gardner, Pres. Mrs. Harry Walen, Vice Pres. Miss Adelaide Ball, Treasurer, officers of the Chorus 1947; Mrs. Kenneth Waite, Chairman of the Music Committee; C. Evan Johnson, Howard Bancroft, Harry Brockington, Madeline Cobb, Ethel DeMille, Robert Royster and George Stevens.

Chorus members were then treated to a "preview" of a tentative program for the Spring Concert to be offered about the middle of May, 1948, through description by Ralph I. Schoonmaker, conductor, and piano rendition by Robert M. Love, accompanist, following which form discussion inquired all with enthusiasm interest to raise membership to two hundred people with special emphasis on increasing the male sections and promote regular attendance. Rehearsals will be held Tuesday evenings at 8:00 p.m. in the Day Junior High School, Crafts street entrance.

Employer: "Youth has always called to youth."
Manager: "Yes, and generally in office hours on the firm's telephone."

Bishop Sherrill to tell Need of Devastated Countries

On Sunday, February 29, substantially every member of the Episcopal Church will hear the voice of their Presiding Bishop, the Rt. Rev. Henry Knox Sherrill, by means of a new and extraordinary use of radio. In the City of Newton the congregation of Episcopal churches will sit in their pews and at exactly 11:32 a.m., the Presiding Bishop's voice will be heard, telling of the needs of war-devastated countries in Europe and Asia, and urging Episcopal church members everywhere to accept their plain duty and privilege of helping these suffering millions. The same scene and the same message will be repeated in thousands of Episcopal churches all over the country, at exactly the same time.

The Episcopal Church gave more than a million dollars in 1947 through its Presiding Bishop's Fund for World Relief, and it intends to raise the same amount or more in 1948. The entirely new use of radio opens what is expected to be a very brief and highly successful campaign.

At the Sunday service Feb. 29, when Bishop Sherrill's 10-minute address ends, thereators of all the Episcopal churches will tell their people how they may have a part in this program of aid for the distressed, through the Presiding Bishop's Fund. Then the opportunity will be given for both immediate gifts and short-time pledges. At national church headquarters in New York City it was stated recently that "Our 1,600,000 people can raise $1,000,000 for the Presiding Bishop's Fund for World Relief in ONE DAY if each parish and mission will do its share."

Functioning as a coordinator, she said, the Council organizes Christmas giving; acts as a clearing house when money is raised; conducts the Volunteer Service Bureau which tries to fill the needs of various agencies in Newton; furnishes other Newton clubs and organizations with directors; and maintains a calendar to prevent conflicts in fair and bazaar dates. Functioning as an investigator, said Miss McAleer, the Council furnishes nursery school information and acts in an advisory capacity to the Community Chest. As a promoter, Miss McAleer continued, the Council conducts first aid courses, maintains a Health Division including an enlarged dental clinic and an Industrial Hygiene Committee. She concluded by stressing that the Volunteer Service Bureau is as necessary now as during the war. The red feather agencies, the Red Cross and the Newton Hospital all need volunteers to act as cashiers, waitresses, ward helpers, typists, receptionists, counsellors, craft teachers, etc.

Dr. Ernest M. Morris, Director of Health, emphasized what he termed "Newton's number one problem" — heart disease. Out of 870 deaths, in Newton last year, he said, 389 were the result of this disease. He hopes that arrangements will soon be completed for the U. S. Public Health Service to send a group to Newton to study ways and means to combat this malady. Other functions of the Department, Dr. Morris continued, include a drive for better restaurant sanitation, mosquito control by power spraying and the draining of swamps and ditches, and work with a nutrition committee which seeks to promote public education toward a more balanced diet.

Mr. C. Evan Johnson, Commissioner of Recreation, summarized the program of his Department. A maintenance staff of 17 men, he said, are responsible for 34 recreation areas in Newton. There are seven neighborhood centers for children where such activities as games, crafts, woodwork, sewing and dancing are conducted. Other centers conduct activities for adults, including metalcraft, furniture refinishing and social get-togethers. Much effort has been expended this year, he stated, in maintaining skating activity in the city. This is particularly valuable in that it brings children and parents together. The recreation department, he pointed out, is hampered because of the lack of land in Newton, poor facilities in school buildings and the scarcity of funds. $123,000 was expended in Newton last year for recreation. Based on population, only $1.58 was expended per capita. hopes to increase the capacity for recreational work at the playgrounds by the erection of a new building with proper facilities for dressing, showers, etc.

Dr. Homer Anderson, Superintendent of Schools, outlined the three P's in Education — Program, Plant and Personnel and the new trends in each. Under Program, he said, there is a trend toward focussing on the ends toward which education carries us. We have been thinking too much of training in skills. Now we ask "what is the education necessary to train an American citizen". The trend also is to lengthen the period of education. He looks forward to the establishing of permanent Junior colleges in all up-to-date communities. Under Plant, he continued, the trend is to make the environment for learning more attractive with larger classrooms. Equipment should be adapted to the modern program where we recognize individual differences in youngsters. The school building should also belong to the community and be available for adult activities. Under Personnel, he said, is the employee and the pupil. There is a trend toward attempting to understand the pupil more than in the past and helping him to work up to his own capacity. The trend is toward better trained teachers who must know more sound psychology, must know the needs of society and understand world problems.

Preceding the program, a hobby show was presented by the American Home Committee. Mrs. William E. Bailey, chairman, was in charge. The following members displayed hobbies: Mrs. D. William Lovell, hooked rugs and needlepoint; Mrs. Gregory Samoylenko, buttons; Mrs. William E. Bailey, Ball heads; Mrs. Maynard L. Moody, sketches; Mrs. William F. Perkins, majolica ware; Mrs. Beatrice R. Wilkins, French china, and Mrs. Henry L. Sawyer, stamps.

At the business meeting conducted by Mrs. Darragh L. Higgins, president, members were invited to the literature meeting and tea to be held at the home of Mrs. Paul H. Tardivel on Friday, February 13, at 2:30, at her home, 59 Maple street, Auburndale. Mrs. Thomas H. Exhibition By Katrine Amory Hooper at The Clairhorne Galleries

It is pleasant to escape from the grim realities of winter, piled snowdrifts and biting cold, to the world of rhythmic color and fantastic forms which one sees on the walls of the Clairhorne Galleries at 243 Washington street, in the current exhibition of paintings by Katrine Amory Hooper of Dedham.

Mrs. Hooper has taken as her inspiration the dream world of modern ballet and, using this as her theme has transferred to static canvas the rhythm, sweep and color, yes, even the music of the dance. She has attempted (and it must be said very successfully) to recreate in her paintings the fluidity of movement, and the dramatic suspense of the dance. To achieve this she has purposely attenuated and etherialized her forms.

In her sketches we find a paucity of line conveying the same restless movement of her oils.

Mrs. Hooper is pre-eminently qualified to paint the dance, as she herself, with the thoroughness which has always characterized her work, became a dancer and a designer of dance costumes, before she attempted to dance.

She has had four one-man shows in New York, as well as Boston shows at the Grace House Galleries, and the Margaret Brown Galleries. Her early training was at the Art Students League of New York, under Nicolaides, and in Paris, this is her first comprehensive showing in Newton. The exhibition is open free to the public from ten until six week days, and from seven until nine on Friday and Saturday evenings.

Auburdale was the guest speaker.

Mr. McGill who had previously predicted positively that there would be a big recession during 1947 said that he has now pushed the date forward and tells us to hold onto our ballast, as a drop is coming in 1948. He expained his miscalculating on the government exports to Europe and the corn shortage. He stated that some of the factors that have influenced the present situation are first, war, which brought a colossal boom for the U. S., and Communism and privation for the rest of the world. He stated that the first 6 billion dollars of our taxes today goes for interest on the $258 billion national debt. Harping back to 1920 and 1921 when prices dropped 45 percent in six months, Herb said we are really to have at least a 20 percent drop during the last part of 1948. He says there is 356 percent more money in circulation now than there was in 1939. The backlog of unfilled orders has sustained gradual price rises. Anything could be bought at black market prices. Farmers' income for 1947 was 30 billion dollars, whereas it was only 9 billion dollars in 1939. He recommends curtailing government expenditures, expansion of production, and a conservative outlook until we reach our balance. He says don't count on European exports holding us over this year. Even if the Marshall Plan does go through, there will still be too small a total to sustain our market.

Winners of "Why I Go To Church" Contest Announced!

The Newton Graphic takes pleasure in announcing the prize winners of the contest "Why I Go to Church." This contest which was sponsored by the Newton Graphic to interest more people in going to the church of their faith was conducted during the month of December.

Because of the number of entries, the high quality and excellence of the thoughts expressed, the judges had a hard time selecting the winners. Their final choice, based on originality, sincerity and aptness of thought was as follows: Miss Rachel E. Crocker, Newton, first prize; Miss Carrie M. Goulding, Newton, second prize; and Miss Marian J. Cobb, Newtonville, third prize.

Following is the first prize winning entry. Other entries will be published in the Graphic in succeeding issues.

Why I Go to Church

The Lord Jesus Christ who founded the church, and gave Himself for it, delights to have His people enjoy united worship and fellowship, in His Sanctuary, and I feel it a privilege and blessing to do so.

Christ set us the example of regular church attendance, for the Bible says:

"He went into the synagogue as His custom was." (Luke 4:16). I was blessed with Christian parents who did not send their children to church, but went with them there. In the sacredness and quietness of a church service I bow to worship God, to ask help and guidance in the coming days, and that I may be fitted for His service.

The hymns and instrumental music, the reading of God's word and the message from it, stir my heart, lift me above earthly cares and inspire me to holier living

Rachel E. Crocker.

JOHN S. WHITTEMORE

"I believe we'd have a much better government if more business men went into politics," says John S. Whittemore of 43 Otis street, Newtonville. "And I feel very strongly that it's a civic duty for a business man to devote part of his time to politics."

Mr. Whittemore speaks with conviction and sincerity. His low voice keeps an even tone. He is the picture of neatness in a pepper-and-salt tweed suit. Behind his shining glasses his brown eyes smile, frequently as he radiates a pleasant disposition and keen interest in public affairs.

"The finest example of my belief is our own city government with its 21 aldermen who serve without pay. Their efficiency is reflected in the fact that Newton has been and is today a desirable place in which to live."

"I also believe in free enterprise and in a wide open door to business as an incentive for young people to get ahead."

Mr. Whittemore lives as he believes. He has been a Representative in the State Legislature for four years, now serving as clerk on the committee on insurance and on the committee on conservation. He's been active in Community Chest work. And for the third successive year he is chairman of the Newton Red Cross Fund campaign which seeks to raise $75,000 during March as our quota. Other groups to which he belongs are included in this roster: St. John's Episcopal church in Newtonville, Boston Chamber of Commerce, Boston Executives Association, Boston City Club, Ancient and Honorable Artillery, Trustees of Public Reservations, Audubon Society, Horticultural Society, Newtonville Improvement Association, Newton Taxpayers Association, the Massachusetts Fish and Game Association, Sharon Fish and Game Club, Newton Anglers' Association and president for 15 years of the Avonmore Fish and Game Club of Quebec.

It is also fitting to mention Mr. Whittemore's official business! He is secretary and treasurer of 2 insurance companies—the Eastern Commercial Travelers and the International Federation of Commercial Travelers. These associations have a membership of 900,000.

Born in Fitzwilliam, N. H., he left school at eleven because of the death of his father who had been ill several years. He went to work in a mill and with his help his mother was able to care for her 2 sons. As a young man he went to Burlington, Vermont, representing a Boston wholesale shoe concern in Vermont and New York. Later he became associated with the Forbush Shoe Co. of North Grafton and traveled extensively all over the country. But it was in Burlington that he met his wife, an English girl named Louise Cuzner.

Twenty-six years ago the Whittemores moved to Newton. Their son, John W., has now brought his wife and daughter, Rayma, to keep him company on Otis street since Mrs. Whittemore's death.

Travel has been such a big part of John Whittemore's life that he says, "I wonder if many business men have spent more nights on a sleeper than I have. For years I averaged 100 nights a year on trains!"

"And from your list of clubs it's obvious that fishing is the way you relax from this strain." "It certainly is! My hobby is fishing for trout and Atlantic salmon." His eyes sparkled at mention of this sport. "I am one of 15 owners of the Miramichi Anglers' Association, located on the Miramichi river at Doaktown, New Brunswick."

"The famous Miramichi!" "They call fishing there the sport of kings. I have a good appetite for all foods but on the Miramichi I can enjoy outdoor cooking. I used to bring home lots of fresh fish to give away. Now I usually smoke trout and salmon to eat on the spot and

Volunteers Needed

Do you have two or four hours a week that you can give to help make life more interesting for some homebound invalid?

The Volunteer Service Bureau of the Newton Community Council—a Red Feather Service—is seeking to help the Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross to fill its need for Community Gray Ladies, to visit the sick in their homes.

Community Gray Ladies perform a tremendous service by talking and reading to elderly invalids referred by the District Nursing Association, or by telling and teaching simple crafts to homebound children referred by the Board of Education. You need have no special skill or training—merely a liking for people and a real desire to help someone less fortunate enjoy a fuller life.

If you are 18 or over, and have a few hours a week to spare, and are interested in a truly worthwhile service to your community, don't fail to volunteer for Community Gray Lady work. A training class is being formed by the Red Cross to start early in March—so sign up now.

For further information about this and other volunteer opportunities, call the Volunteer Service Bureau—LAsell 7-5121.

The regular monthly meeting of the Newton Corner Business and Professional Association was held at the Y.M.C.A. last Tuesday evening.

A representative of the Park-O-Meter Co. of Oklahoma gave an interesting talk on parking meters, their cost, expected revenue and how they work.

The Association requested that the Park-O-Meter Co. Make a survey of the Newton Corner area to determine the need for meters and the number required.

The survey and a report, accompanied by a blueprint of the plans, will be presented to members of the Association in about four days. The matter will then be presented to the Board of Aldermen. The Park-O-Meter Co. installed the meters in the city of Cambridge.

The plan was proposed to do away with all-day parking in the square. It was pointed out that there are two large off-street parking areas in the section, and the project is an attempt to have the all-day parkers utilize these areas, leaving the street park-

National Heart Week

Nearly every physician is aware, from his day-to-day practice of medicine, that a gross disproportion exists between the amount of time and effort spent on research in cardiac diseases and the frequency of their occurrence in his practice. Without any deprecation of the research being done in other fields, it must be acknowledged that the actual problems the family physician faces day in and day out in a very large number of patients are those of hypertension, arteriosclerosis and valvular heart disease.

Perhaps some of this disproportion in public interest and support of health programs has been the fault of the medical profession. Too often laymen have been permitted to develop public interest on an emotional rather than a factual basis. Physicians therefore welcome a program for public understanding and fund raising that is professionally inspired and directed, such as the program of the New England Heart Association, which will be publicized during National Heart Week, February 8-14.

The New England Heart Association is one of the oldest associations in the United States devoted to the study of cardiovascular disease. It is a regional affiliate of the American Heart Association, and it implements the program of the national agency. Its officers recently presented a plan of research and interpretation of research to the medical profession, to allied professions and to the general public.

Statistically, the case is clear. Heart afflictions due to rheumatic fever constitute the greatest single menace to school children, killing five times as many as infantile paralysis, whooping cough, diphtheria, scarlet fever, measles and meningitis combined. Nearly 1 out of every 2 deaths after the age of forty-five is caused by diseases of the heart and circulation. In spite of this, an average of hardly more than $100,000 has been spent annually in the entire country during the past decade for research on rheumatic fever, and the funds available for research in hypertension, coronary-artery disease and peripheral vascular disease are far below minimum needs.

There has been a tendency among both physicians and laymen to adopt a belief in the inevitability of arteriosclerosis and hypertension. Prior to recent years, this was also true about cancer. The expanding horizons of biochemistry and nuclear physics have altered this attitude of resignation toward cancer. It seems clear that the answers to the far more common cardiovascular diseases lie also in the domain of the fundamental sciences. For such research, the financial implementation should be supplied by both governmental and voluntary subscriptions.

The 1948 goal of the New England Heart Association is $92,000—a modest sum considering the need. Requests for support from community funds have been, with few exceptions, regrettably denied. Through the cooperation of the various state pharmaceutical associations and wholesale druggists, heart-shaped coin collectors will be displayed on drugstore counters during Heart Week. In some communities there will be organized solicitation.

Physicians can well indicate to interested laymen that something is being done about heart disease. Some will wish also to make their own contributions, which will constitute a valuable endorsement of the campaign.

The New England Heart Association asks for the active cooperation of the medical profession.

"Where does the money go?"

Of course, it's exasperating to find all your money gone "just a few days after payday" ... to wonder (and argue!) where it all went.

The simplest way to avoid this exasperation is to make sure that you spend a little less than you earn. You can make sure of that by opening a savings account and depositing a little money every payday before you do any spending.

Naturally, the place for your Savings Account is this sound, long-established Mutual Savings Bank where all deposits are insured in full under State law.

LAFAYETTE A. LEWIS

Grand Exalted Ruler Lafayette A. Lewis of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks will arrive in Newton on Feb. 15, according to Nicholas Veducio, exalted ruler of Newton Lodge. A gala reception by local Elks in honor of their national leader is being planned. The Grand Exalted Ruler of 900,000 Elks is expected to elaborate on the order's fight against un-American "isms" and to trace how the Elks plan to carry on their many well-known benevolent activities. Chief among these at the present time are an intensified program of help and entertainment for hospitalized veterans, an increased sponsorship of Boy Scout troops by local Elk lodges and a greatly expanded campaign of community welfare and aid to unfortunate persons.

Through the order's hospital program, games, athletic and other recreational equipment, entertainment and numerous therapeutic devices are provided for wounded veterans in 152 hospitals in 41 states.

Hospital Re-elects Officers for 1948

At the annual meeting of the trustees of Newton-Wellesley Hospital held February 3, the following officers were reappointed for the year 1948:

John M. Powell, president; Paul T. Babson, 1st vice president; Charles M. Cutler, 2nd vice president; Donald P. Perry, treasurer; Henry T. Dunker, assistant treasurer, and C. Raymond Cabot, clerk.

Mr. Neil Leonard, appointed to the Board of Governors in 1944, tendered his resignation due to the press of other activities, and Messrs. Benjamin W. Guernsey and Joseph F. Wogan completed their five-year terms as members of that Board. Replacing them are Richard P. Chapman, Thomas E. Shirley and George M. Thurmond. Chester C. Spring was reappointed Secretary of the Board of Governors.

Mrs. Horatio Rogers replaces Mrs. John F. Brown as a member of the Board of Directors of the School of Nursing for a five-year term. O. Herbert Sherbrooke again will serve as Chairman of that Board.

Politics With Color

by P. W. C.

(The opinions expressed in this column are the writer's own, and do not necessarily reflect the views or policy of this newspaper.—Editor's Note.)

Inside Politics

Much of what I have to say this week will not be of interest to the so-called professional politicians or even to those more high-minded men and women who might more properly be labelled public servants. In this latter category, of course, I include the typical member of our Board of Aldermen, many others in the employ of the city government and a reasonable number of state legislators, etc. This last group will, I am sure, sympathize with the writer in his constant desire to inform the general public and to interpret the meaning of political events. Let me now proceed.

There are, as your columnist views the situation, two different approaches to many of our most important political problems. One might be called "Mama knows best" approach and the other might be called the somewhat more democratic and naive approach employed by the average voter who wants to know what the score is and who would appreciate having an opportunity to participate in the shaping of party policy and in the selection of candidates for public office. To be sure, this latter group, comprising the overwhelming majority of all the voters, is invariably told what to do and when to do it just prior to a primary or an election. By that time, unfortunately, the barn door has been locked and the horse is somewhere outside.

Now, let's get right down to cases. My regular readers know that I have made considerable effort in behalf of the Presidential Preference Act, which would make it possible for you and me to write in on our April primary ballot our choice for President in 1948. What happened? The Committee on Election Laws, of which one of our Newton solons is chairman, made an adverse report on this legislation and, under ordinary circumstances, this report would have been sustained by the lower branch, the House. However, there appeared to be some little sentiment for the bill and another bill, filed by a Quincy Republican of the liberal type, was substituted for the adverse committee report. Here, however, is a quiet tip. This new bill will almost surely be killed in the Senate, which is known as the upper branch of the legislature, despite the fact that the members of the House get a kick out of calling it the "lower branch."

You ask WHY these things have taken place or will, in the future, take place. Here is the answer, assuming that I can understand the English language and have not lost my hearing completely. In the first place, one legislator from Newton says that a lot of voters wrote in the names Mae West and Mickey Mouse a few years ago. Therefore, there is no sense in giving the voters another opportunity to be funny. That argument falls of its own weight for the simple reason that those offering the argument have never attempted to prove that any substantial number of voters did such a silly thing.

The next argument was that our favorite sons objected to the presidential preference act. Mind you, nobody claimed that the men in question personally objected; their supporters, however, did. The argument was that if the voters of this state expressed a strong preference for, let us say, General Eisenhower, it would seriously cramp the style of our obvious favorite son, Senator Leverett Saltonstall.

Well, would it? Under ordinary circumstances, a favorite son gets a handsome complimentary vote on the first ballot at a convention and, perhaps, on one or two more ballots. Then, when it becomes obvious to those who pull the strings at convention, that said favorite son cannot possibly make the grade, his name is withdrawn, with the man's consent, of course, and the convention proceeds to vote on those candidates who have a substantial national following. In this case, that would be Dewey, Stassen, Taft and one or two others, like Warren of California and Vandenberg of Michigan. That is where the value of knowing the average voter's preference comes in. If and when my own friend, Leverett Saltonstall, is advised that it isn't in the cards for him to get the coveted nomination, he will ask to be omitted from consideration and the delegates will then ballot for the various, announced candidates who have already secured pledges of support from a good many of their own number. In other words, it is hard for me to understand just how the working of this preference feature will really hurt our own Senior Senator.

The other argument advanced was that the G.O.P. must, at all costs, have party harmony. This harmony can only be secured by doing just what a few of the more important party leaders think is best. That is the "Mama knows best" argument. More about this situation as it develops in the coming weeks.

Convention Delegates
Newtonians will regret to learn that our former president of the Board of Aldermen, Joseph B. Jamieson, has withdrawn his name as a candidate to the 1948 convention. He had hardly started to run before he was out of the running, again in the interests of party harmony. Without intending any sacrilege, may I say that I am reminded of the quotation: "God moves in mysterious ways, his wonders to perform."

and routine nursing care. While this deficit was due in large part to the difficulties in which Blue Cross found itself and the subsequent withholding by that organization of over $20,000 in payments, it was due, as well, to the continuing rising costs of operation, Mr. Powell said. Changes in rates are as follows:
Ward, from $8 to $8.50 a day.
Private-inward, from $8.50 to $9.50 a day.
Semi-private, from $9.50 to $10.50 a day.
Private, from $10.50 to $11.50 a day.

Ex-Gov. Ely State Chairman of Cancer Drive

Appointment of former Governor Joseph B. Ely as state chairman of its 1948 fund-raising campaign has been announced by the Massachusetts Division of the American Cancer Society, 476 Boylston street, Boston. "Consciousness of the cancer problem has already been brought to the people of Massachusetts by several years of fund-raising campaigns plus a full-time program of education. Research in cancer has thus been greatly accelerated; it is now starting to show results; and this year's campaign should be the beginning of the last lap on the road to conquering cancer," prophesies Mr. Ely.

The campaign will be held during the month of April, and local campaign chairmen and committees in nearly every community in Massachusetts will work closely with the new state chairman, whose headquarters will be in the society's Boston office.

Dr. John K. Brines Gets Hospital Post

At the annual meeting of the Board of Governors of Newton-Wellesley Hospital, Dr. John K. Brines, 29 Martin road, Wellesley, was appointed Chief of the Pediatrics Service, effective March 1, 1948. He will replace Dr. George F. H. Bowers who, following his resignation from this position after twenty-four years of service, has been appointed to the Consulting Staff in pediatrics.

Dr. Brines has been a member of Newton-Wellesley Hospital staff since 1939. A graduate of Harvard Medical School, he served his internship at New Haven Hospital and was resident at the Children's Hospital, Boston. During the war, he served with the Army Air Forces, returning to civilian practice early in 1946. He is a fellow of the Massachusetts Medical Society and a diplomate of the American Board of Pediatrics.

was explained, is the use of radio active material in the field of research, medical research for example. Its use as a tracer, being an example. It has been stated that atomic energy has already saved more lives than it has destroyed. Another use is in connection with industrial controls in the preparation of materials. A use which is being carefully studied is the possible use of atomic energy for heat or power energy. This is not practical under present conditions, but it does have future possibilities which are being carefully investigated.

The first three lectures have attempted to give the scientific background of the new knowledge in the field of nuclear science. The fourth lecture by Prof. Edward Purcell of Harvard University is of wide general interest as it concerns policy and in which Atomic Energy can be controlled for the safety of society. This is a matter of public concern and of vital interest. The first three lectures have been handicapped by difficult weather conditions, it is hoped that the fourth and final lecture will be heard by a large audience.

Cover that cough! The common cold is the greatest cause for loss of time on the job, warns the National Conservation Bureau. If you already have one, protect others by following the dictates of common decency.

NEWTON CITIZENS PROTECTED BY NEWTON RED CROSS DISASTER PLAN

Among the obligations imposed upon the National Red Cross by the Congressional Charter is: "To continue and carry on a system of national relief in time of peace and apply the same in mitigating the sufferings caused by pestilence, famine, fire, floods and other great national calamities and to devise and carry on measures for preventing the same."

THE TRAGIC STORY OF 1947

The most destructive series of major disasters in history struck the United States during 1947, according to the American Red Cross, which allocated some $11,000,000 to assist more than 300,000 persons. In terms of costs, 1947 was the peak year in Red Cross disaster work for the last decade.

Disasters, which struck 46 states and Alaska, included 142 fires, 41 tornadoes, 3 hurricanes, 22 other storms, 31 explosions, minor earthquakes, transportation wrecks, other serious accidents. Grimmiest toll in casualties and property losses, and highest Red Cross relief expenditures occurred after five major disasters: The worst tornadoes in 10 years in Texas and Oklahoma last April.

The Texas City explosions and fire in mid-April, claiming 500 lives and inflicting more than 3,500 injuries.

June floods in seven midwestern and eastern states.

The severe Florida-Gulf States hurricane in September, followed by prolonged floods.

The devastating New England forest fires in October.

Red Cross records show 1,266 disaster-caused deaths up to December 1, approximately twice the toll in 1946. Persons injured numbered 1,969.

More than $1,000 buildings — mostly homes — were destroyed or damaged, and hundreds of thousands of acres of productive farmlands were ruined by erosion or rendered useless for the year by long-standing severe floods.

THE MAINE FOREST FIRE STORY

Disaster drew close to the local area last October when highly destructive forest fires raged in Maine.

While the fury of the conflagrations was at a peak, a far-flung emergency relief program was in operation on a 24-hour-a-day basis. Meals and snacks were carried to thousands of volunteer firefighters. Feeding the refugees in Red Cross shelters was a major task — approximately 45,000 meals were served during a 3-day period in a single hard-hit area. Some 3,000 persons stayed in Red Cross shelters, while thousands more were housed with relatives and friends.

The real tragedy lay in the losses suffered by the people caught in the path of the angry flames. There was, for instance, the aged couple who finally had paid off the mortgage on their home only to find the next day their old-age security reduced to ashes. And the stalwart farmer who cried like a baby as he lifted his rifle to shoot livestock burned by the fire.

After immediate relief had been extended to these victims, the slower work of rehabilitation began. Winter was approaching and rebuilding an impossibility until spring. Temporary homes were erected to tide over the burned-out families.

Help of a more permanent nature is being offered to all who do not have sufficient resources to return to normal living unaided. Assistance is given on an individual basis with the purpose of re-establishing the family unit according to former circumstances. Grants are in the form of outright gifts rather than loans.

Such work may involve the building and repairing of homes, purchase of food and clothing, farm supplies or occupational equipment, as well as medical care.

Red Cross will stand by as long as the need exists.

ALMOST LIKE AN AIR RAID, forest fires sweeping through large areas in Maine last fall razed whole blocks of buildings in some communities. Still-warm ashes and brick chimneys were all that remained of residences on the main street in Waterboro, Maine. This township lost 122 permanent homes in the fire.

THE STORY OF NEWTON'S PLAN

The citizens of Newton could be afflicted with another hurricane, an explosion, train wreck or earthquake.

A visit to the Newton Red Cross Disaster Closet is a reassuring experience. There, under lock and key, and arranged in orderly and easily accessible fashion, is the necessary equipment for mass feeding. Included are lanterns, trestles, coffee containers and many paper dishes and spoons. There are stretchers, bandages, First Aid Kits, and many other medical supplies.

On file is a complete disaster plan which involves the immediate functioning of the local Red Cross Chapter under the guidance of representatives of the National Red Cross. The plan provides for the active cooperation of city departments and other agencies.

The committees listed below, under the leadership of their respective chairmen, would at once go into action for the emergency relief of victims. The extent of the damage would first be determined by the Survey Committee who would decide exactly what services were needed for the particular kind of disaster.

Working closely with the Police and Fire Departments and depending on forecasts of the U. S. Weather Bureau, the Committee or Rescue would make plans for possible evacuations and carry them out if necessary.

Certain school buildings are listed as mass shelters, with notations regarding kitchen facilities. Should these be opened, members of the Public Buildings and Recreation Departments would assist in making the people comfortable. The Red Cross Canteen Service would provide food for the victims as well as for all assisting personnel.

Clothing demands would be carefully considered. Local sources of obtaining clothing are listed, with the Thrift Center and the Red Cross Production and Supply Service in readiness to cooperate to the fullest.

Transportation problems would be worked out by the City Transportation Committee and Red Cross Motor Service, with city and Chapter vehicles both available.

To carry out details of registration and information, there is a committee of representatives of public and private welfare organizations and service groups. Each of these has at his call a group of clerical and social workers skilled in their own professions.

The chairman of the Medical Committee would take charge of all medical aid, with nursing care under a nurse vice-chairman and the Red Cross Director of Nursing Services. Red Cross First Aid experts are on call.

To see that all needs for blood were met, the Red Cross Blood Donor Committee is ready to take on emergency duties at a moment's notice.

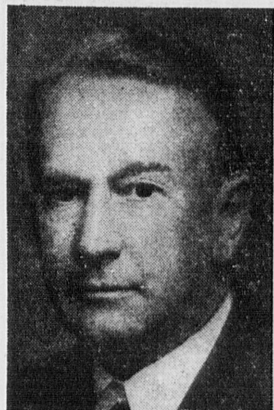

The Treasurer of the Newton Chapter would be in charge of all disbursements, and Red Cross Public Information would keep the citizens informed on all details of the disaster.

The Disaster Plan is reviewed at regular intervals and weak spots strengthened.

Every possible precaution is being taken to protect the lives and welfare of the people of this city in case of a major calamity.

Eliot Church Men's Club

On Monday evening, February 9, an especially interesting program was presented at the monthly meeting of the Eliot Church Men's Club. The supper has as its main dish, Norwegian meat balls, prepared by Frank Anderson. Following a brief musical program, there was an interesting forum on the relations between labor and capital in this country. Five members of Professor Arthur W. Hanson's accounting class at the Harvard School of Business Administration spoke. These young men are doing graduate work at Harvard, being sent for further education by various groups of organized labor, A.F. of L., C. I. O., and other groups. One of the speakers was from Norway another from Denmark, one from the Canal Zone. There was a lively discussion with many questions from the floor. It proved to be an unusual opportunity for the exchange of viewpoints, experiences and informations. Members hope for a repeat performance in the future.

Those interested in Smith College and their friends are especially invited to come.

West Newton W.C.T.U.

The regular monthly meeting of the West Newton W.C.T.U. will be held at the home of Mrs. Giles Thurber, 12 Maple Street, Auburndale next Monday evening at 7:45.

Vets' Taxes—

1. The proposed legislation is unfair not only to other veterans in classes not covered by the legislation, but also to World War I veterans who have bought or built before the proposed law takes effect. They will still have to pay.

2. Such legislation is merely the beginning of a flood of proposals requesting ever-expanding exemptions. For example: Today a veteran gets a $2000 abatement in certain cases if he has only a 10 percent disability. That disability requirement originally started at 20 percent and has been progressively cut down. Also the calendar of this week's hearings at the State House covered 12 other proposals for veterans exemptions or abatements with respect to real estate taxes in one form or another.

3. Applied in Newton to the Oak Hill Veterans Housing Project as outlined in the Progress Report of January 5, the city would lose an estimated $360,825 with no assurance that the exemption would not be extended in the future.

The directors at present are studying the proposal of Governor Bradford that a $200,000,000 state credit pool be established to aid cities and towns with their financing of veterans housing and will shortly announce their findings.

In addition the directors went on record favoring a proposal that repair bond issues be subject to the approval of the Emergency Finance Board, and also favored a bill to deprive the Commissioner of Corporation and Taxation of the power to prevent cities and towns from appropriating available funds as they see fit.

It was further voted to oppose Commissioner Long's request to establish 1948 municipal tax rates at the present rate plus 25 percent if the local assessors had not set the rate by May 1, 1948. If that bill were enacted, Newton might very well have a 40 tax rate.

Dairymen may eventually be using milk cans coated with an enamel made from the lactic acid of milk itself instead of cans coated inside with tin. Dairymen have commonly used as milk containers cans with a protective coating of tin that covers the steel of the cans, prevents rusting, and makes it easy to clean and sterilize them.

Issue Permit for Newton Cen. Theatre

A permit has been issued by the Newton Public Building Department to the Allston Theatre, Inc. of Boston for the construction of a theatre in Newton Centre at an estimated cost of $130,000.

Work is expected to be started in the Spring on the building which will be erected on Cypress street adjacent to the Newton Centre Branch Library, providing Federal approval is received and an effort will be made to have it completed by the Fall.

The architects are Krokyn & Brown of Boston, and the contractor is Julius J. Conviser, 333 Washington street, Boston.

The building will be of brick fireproof construction and will cover an area of 144 by 60 feet, and 45 feet high. The structure will have a seating capacity of 1200 in the orchestra and balcony combined. It will be of Colonial architecture outside with a modern interior.

The Community Service Club of West Newton

The Community Service Club of West Newton will meet at the Unitarian Parish House at 2 p. m. on Wednesday, Feb. 18, 1948.

Mrs. D. Earle Brackett, the president, will welcome Mrs. Harvey E. Greenwood, State Federation President, the guest of honor.

The business meeting will be followed by a talk with dramatic illustrations by Adele Hoes Lee, her subject being, "Current Theatre."

Mrs. Lee was in charge of volunteer programs for the 1st Service Command and 1st Naval District during the recent war. She assisted in over 5000 shows in Hospitals, Corps, and on board ships.

Miss Fanny F. Gray and Mrs. at the tea hour which is in Leslie P. Phinney will pour charge of Mrs. Henry F. Cate Jr. and Mrs. Nathan D. Bugbee.

Gray Ladies—

who under her wartime regime as Chairman of the Red Cross Gray Ladies, was introduced to the art leather work. This patient who still keeps in touch with the Red Cross, is not only grateful for the avocation which is now a trade and by which he supports his family, but he also states to all and sundry with a great deal of certainty that the Red Cross saved his life. By this he means that the interest to live came to him with the realization that he would be able to carry on independently when his hospital days were over.

The Community Gray Ladies service patients of the District Nursing Association, and Mrs. Edson Forbes, a member of the committee is a most welcome visitor in one Newton home. Here mother and daughter, are able to visit one another in person only on special occasions when the latter is carried down stairs. The mother under Mrs. Forbes' tutelage has just completed a braided rug. The patient derives great satisfaction from her achievement not only because when she is able to sit up it keeps her feet warm, but also she finds that the new interest has produced the blessing of a much better night's rest. Her daughter finds that her accomplishments in crocheting, knitting, and weaving are a source of much appreciated income.

Mrs. Ralph Keyes, Newton Chairman of Arts and Skills at Cushing General Hospital, finds that members of her committee are not only very popular with the hospitalized veterans but that the doctors and the occupational therapy department, too, often call them in to work with the patients.

Mrs. Maurice Strauss, an enthusiastic Staff Aide in the Cushing Arts and Skills office, sees many heartwarming cases where discouraged patients are gaining an optimistic outlook through newly-found abilities in skills. One veteran, unable to continue his former occupation due to war injuries, was attracted to metal craft, a field in which he now excels. Others have attained successes in the fine arts, decorative arts, weaving, fabric stenciling, tooled leather work, and pottery.

Sometimes the results do not merit continuing with the craft as a vocation. However, the worker received a great deal of satisfaction from the joy of the patient in his accomplishment. The victory is in the fact that the man is interested in wanting to participate in a creative activity. No craft worker forces her skills on a patient. The request for help must come from the latter. Then the trained worker supplies him with the necessary equipment, guidance, and suggestions. All articles made from material supplied by the Red Cross belong to the men who take great pride in presenting members of their families with gifts which they themselves have fashioned. None of these articles are for sale. If the veteran wishes to make articles commercially he must buy his own materials.

The Newton Chapter offers courses for arts and skills personnel. Women with particular skills or clever in sewing or in handicraft, and with an interest in this rehabilitation project are trained for duty. One of the difficulties is the scarcity of material. Therefore, the general public may help by donating felt, wool, or leather scraps. Contact the Red Cross at 21 Foster street, Newtonville, or call LA 7-6000 if you are able to assist in this worthwhile volunteer activity.

U.N. Wants 5 Medical Missions, Dr. Frederick May Eliot Tells Unitarian All-Parish Audience, Tues. Evening

A unanimous vote of confidence in Dr. Herbert Hitchen, minister of the First Unitarian Society in Newton, and in Dr. Frederick May Eliot, president of the American Unitarian Association, climaxed the all-parish meeting held Tuesday evening, Feb. 3, under the auspices of the Laymen's League at the West Newton Unitarian Church.

The resolution was presented by Vice-President William L. Tisdell of the local Laymen's League, following an inspiring address by the guest speaker, Dr. Eliot, on "What Is Going On" and the ensuing spirited discussion and question and answer period conducted by John E. Cox, president of the West Newton Branch of the Unitarian Laymen's League.

Mr. Cox, after welcoming some 75 men and women to this open gathering, had earlier turned the meeting over to Mr. Tisdell as program chairman, who then introduced President Eliot of the A.U.A.

Dr. Eliot talked on various phases of Unitarian activity, emphasizing particularly the Unitarian Service Committee, establishment of new Unitarian churches, the Division of Publications and the young people's work.

Medical team technique developed by the Unitarian Service Committee's first medical mission sent to Czechoslovakia last year has received such widespread recognition and acclaim that the World Health Organization of the United Nations has requested the Unitarian Service Committee to send five similar medical missions next summer, President Eliot announced. These medical teams will be sent to Germany, Poland, Greece, and to Colombia, South America, and to the Philippine Islands.

All this, Dr. Eliot said, is part of the second great period of expansion which the Unitarian denomination has been undergoing in recent years. The first expansion came in the late sixties just after the Civil War when Dr. Henry W. Bellows of New York City, who had organized the U. S. Sanitary Commission during the Civil War, proved himself a statesman in the field of religious organizations.

"During the last ten years, for the first time in its history, the Unitarian Church has organized its humanitarian effort. We believe that we can serve our country and our times as citizens rather than as Unitarians. The Unitarian Service Committee was organized as a great humanitarian movement flying the Unitarian flag. Very few realize the significance of what has already been accomplished by this small body with limited resources, which has worked not in terms of mass production but in terms of leadership.

All this has come about, not deliberately, but as an expression of need, he said. "We are now flying the Unitarian flag at the masthead of humanitarianism, helping where the need is great regardless of race, creed or nationality. With the exception of the Quakers, the Unitarians are the only Protestant body doing the job for the victims of the Nazis and Fascists' on a non-partisan, non-political and strictly humanitarian basis."

Dr. Eliot reported that the United Unitarian Appeal, which has doubled its goal to $500,000, has raised more money each year than the year before. A strong belief in the Community Chest philosophy, from which the United Unitarian Appeal derives, and with which he had experience in St. Paul, Minn. for 16 years before coming to Boston as president of the American Unitarian Association, Dr. Eliot said the Community Chest idea was slower to catch on in Boston than in the Midwest, but it is a sound philosophy to meet the needs of our times.

"As a denomination, we are getting ready to grow," Dr. Eliot continued. "We are developing a technique in building new Unitarian churches." Most of the Unitarian churches founded in the period after the Civil War died, he explained, because after the little groups of New Englanders who started them died off, there was not enough Unitarian constituency left to carry on. The new churches now being established will have a better chance of being permanent.

Because of the work of the Unitarian Service Committee and also because of constant innovation, Unitarians as a denomination are becoming prominent and are therefore in the public eye, he said. "We are no longer a small innocuous sect in a corner. Criticism by orthodox churches is not pleasant, but it is inescapable. It is the business of a liberal church in the United States of America to oppose the forces of tyranny like Franco and the Communist power of Soviet Russia. We must give moral backing to the liberal forces in Czechoslovakia, Poland, Austria and Hungary."

Answering questions about the Young People's work, Dr. Eliot said that it is most important and nothing is closer to his heart. "The young people today are finer, mentally, morally and spiritually than 25 years ago. They must develop their own leadership in a changing world. They have integrity, moral purpose and spiritual purpose. The Young People's movement is going to be autonomous with a counselor for youth, appointed by the American Unitarian Association, to help them when needed."

Woman's Club of Newton Highlands

Tuesday, February 17th at 8:30 p.m. will be Guest Evening at the Highlands Woman's Club to be held at the Newton Highlands Congregational Church.

Max K. Gilstrap, graduate of the University of Oklahoma, graduate student of Harvard University, author, whistler and lecturer has served four summers as ranger-naturalist in Grand Canyon. With colored motion pictures, he gives his audience a real honest-to-goodness thrill as they stand with him looking up at the lacy wonder of Yosemite Falls or gaze out into blue space from the top of a rocky crag. His whistling imitations of bird calls fool the audience — and even the birds.

Mrs. Herbert Anderson and Miss Edith Stearns will play a two piano concerto. Refreshments will be served.

Two series of general educational development tests provided by the U. S. Armed Forces Institute have been approved by the Department of the Army to measure soldier learning at the high school and one year college levels.

Mr. Theodore Burk, president of the Burr-William P. T. A. of Auburndale and a committee met with Mayor Theodore Lockwood on Friday evening to discuss the hazards to school children caused by the prevailing street conditions.

Mr. Lockwood was heartily in sympathy with the problem. He pointed out that if all the sidewalks to the Newton schools were cleared of snow, it would represent 86 miles. Aside from the lack of necessary equipment there weren't enough new to take care of the work involved.

Tractor plows were ordered in 1946 and 6 out of the 11 were delivered in Jan. 1948. More are expected this month.

Mr. Lockwood suggested it would help greatly if individuals living on side streets would keep weren't enough men to take care. PTA Council Reports Curriculum Studies

Evidence that both educators and parents in Newton are doing some serious thinking about the school curriculum and its suitability to the child and the times was given at the recent meeting of the Newton PTA Council at the Underwood School.

Subject of the meeting was "What Parents Can Do To Affect the Quality of Education." Answers to this problem were given in reports of Mr. Dexter Harris, of the Angier School; Mrs. Roger Hamilton of the Oak Hill School; and Mr. Raymond Blaisdell of Weeks Junior High School.

At the Angier School 80 parents have cooperated with teachers in discussion groups on the subject of how children are taught. The findings of these groups are being mailed to the parents in the form of printed bulletins.

Oak Hill parents and teachers have conducted a series of meetings to examine the problems of what should be expected of the child in each grade. A study made in the Glencoe, Illinois, schools entitled, "Together We Learn", is being mailed to Oak Hill parents along with achievement standards expected of each child this year and next year.

At the instigation of the teachers of the Weeks Junior High School, a Curriculum Workshop was set up this year. Each Tuesday afternoon seven parents and seven teachers meet under the direction of Dr. William Burton, of Harvard, and other experts.

The findings of this Workshop will probably be incorporated in the teaching program of Weeks Junior High next year.

Mr. William C. Greene, chairman of the Curriculum Committee of the PTA Council and member of the English Department of M. I. T., was in charge of the meetings. Madeline Stewart and Bob Parker, of the Senior High, spoke on the Red Cross Blood Donor program soon to be in effect in Newton.

Everett Kinchla, Council President, that through the efforts of the Underwood School PTA, the Paramount Theater in Newton is putting on a series of Saturday afternoon children's programs for children of grades 4, 5, and 6. Tribute to Taffy Taffy was a little taffy colored cocker spaniel puppy. His owners had become very fond of him. It was the habit of his mistress to take him out on a leash each evening, he would jump from snow bank to snow bank, having a wonderful time. Also, his mistress would let him free of his leash when his master came in sight on his way home from work or school. Last night, when he went off in a bound to greet his master when he called him he became confused as to the direction of his masters voice and darted across the street, straight in the path of an automobile which was going too fast, for Centre st. corner of Churchill. The driver of that car should feel very guilty, for he broke little Taffy's neck and he died almost instantly.

Did the driver stop to see if there was a spark of life left in the little puppy? He did not, he kept right on going, and the owners picked up their little pet, broken and dead. A passing motorist stopped to inquire whether he could help, it was too late. So he called a policeman who took Taffy away. The family, including a 3 and one half year old child grieves for this pet and if the driver of the car had only stopped to offer sympathy to the heart-broken owners, it would indeed have been a decent gesture.

Wellesley Concert Series To Present Unusual Program

On February 25 at 8 p.m. in Alumnae Hall, the third event in the current Wellesley Concert Series will depart somewhat from the usual and present those superlative dancers Markova and Dolin and their company of eighteen, in a beautiful and varied program which will delight the hearts of all lovers of the Dance.

The phenomenal success which the Markova-Dolin tours have enjoyed is due, of course, to the great artistry and the standard of perfection which the entire company maintains but it is also a tribute to the increasing spread of general and active interest in what was once only for the greatly specialized audience of the "haut monde" Markova-Dolin appearance in Wellesley coincides so closely with a dance symposium conducted at the college, where many interested in all types of the dance will gather for demonstration. A cultural activity which has grown so that it reaches the many instead of the few has infinite value from an educational point of view and it is especially gratifying that for their Wellesley recital Markova and Dolin have chosen a program of dances for which they are most famous.

Alicia Markova was born Lillian Alice Marks of Irish-English parents, and after electrifying audiences as a child prodigy, was admitted to the famous ballet company directed by Diaghilev.

But she had to change her name to Markova, as did another non-Russian, Patrick Healy-Kay, who became a great star under the name of Anton Dolin. Markova has been called by John Martin of the New York Times the "greatest of all dancers—greater than Pavlova", and she will dance at Alumnae Hall the famous Dying Swan for which Pavlova won such acclaim. Dolin will solo in the Hymn To The Sun. There will be duets and trios—"pas de deux" and "pas de trois" and the featured dancers of the company, Rosay Sobo, Tupine and Seibert, will play important parts in the interpretation of music by Chopin, Tchaikovsky, Berlioz, Strauss and Saint-Saens.

This party was the first project put on by the P. T. A. and the Assoc. feels that the success of the project was due to the loyal support of the parents, teachers and friends of the Davis School.

Newton High School

For about two years there has been an anti-fraternity-sorority campaign at Newton High school. Such societies have long been condemned as unfitting in a public high school. Both school and church officials as well as student leaders have often deplored the class-consciousness they arouse as well as the fact that they turn the student's interests away from the guiding influence of the school, church, and other youth organizations.

Last week, on the pages of the school newspaper, "The Newtonite", there appeared an open letter to the high school from the members of the Phi Kappa Delta fraternity. They announced that, although they themselves considered the organization harmless, they had come to realize that a fraternity was not suitable in a public high school, and would therefore, on the advice of Principal Raymond A. Green, disband their society as son as all pending business was completed. School officials have been most hearty in their praise of these young people for the forthright and sincere manner in which they reached their decision.

All members of "Tusitala," the Newton High school creative writing club, will take "Pot Luck" this spring when their magazine of the same name is published. It will contain the cream of "Tusitala's" work this school year and the last part of last year. Poems, short stories, and essays will be included.

The magazine will be mimeographed and will have a cover printed in the silk-screen process by Dava Benson, a club member and art student. Only enough copies will be printed for the club members.

THREE SCOUTS of Norumbega who received "For God and Country" awards, the highest award a church may present to a Scout, at services at St. John's Episcopal Church, Newtonville, on Scout Sunday, February 8, 1948. Left to right: Kent Collins, W. Bradford Chase, Richard Veinot.

Scouts Take Active Part In Church Services

Church Services in Norumbega Council were very well attended by Scouts and Scouters observing "Boy Scout Anniversary Sunday," February 8th.

Rev. Morrison Russell Boynton, D.D., officiated at services in the First Congregational Church, Newton Centre, representing Sachem District, where 80 Scouts, Cubs and Leaders participated. The Colors were presented and the Scout Oath and Law were repeated. Dr. Boynton paid tribute to Scouting by preaching on "What Does It Cost." He pointed out the importance of character and good citizenship of which the value cannot be estimated.

Squanto District Services were held in St. John's Episcopal Church, Newtonville. The Rev. Wilbur J. Kingswill, an Eagle Scout, issued a challenge to the boys to live each day the Scout Laws. He said that Scouting leaders held in their hands the opportunity to mould future citizens. He awarded three "God and Country" medals to Scouts for outstanding service to their Church. The recipients of the awards, the first in Norumbega Council, were W. Bradford Chase, Kent Collins and Richard Veinot, all of Troop 16 of St. John's Church. The certificates were presented by District Commissioner Walter B. Chase.

Scout Executive Robert E. Pettit spoke on the value of Scouting to the youth of the Nation and the Community. Units represented were Cub Packs 1, 6, 16 and 22; Troops 1, 6, 11, 16, and 22; and Senior Outfit 16. Color bearers were Eagle Scout Daniel Abbott, Life Scout William Underhill and Scout John Nagesian. The congregation joined in the pledge of allegiance to the flag, following the recital of the Scout Oath, led by Eagle Scout Hans Hagen. Prayers and the singing of "America" were included.

Rev. Frederic Groetsema, Protestant Chaplain of Norumbega Council, conducted the service for Quinobeguin District in the Newton Highlands Congregational Church, where over 100 Scouts, Cub Scouts and Leaders were present, as well as Council President F. Brittain Kennedy.

The Scripture was read by Life Scout James Moeller, and Scouts acted as ushers. Troop flags were massed before the altar. Mr. Groetsema related his experiences as a Scout and paid tribute to the value of Scouting in America today.

Rev. Richard P. McClintock conducted the service at The Church of the Messiah, Auburndale, for the Viking District, where 75 Scouts attended. Mr. McClintock preached on "Flag Magic." He said that the high ideals, fortitude of pioneers made America great. "The world today is sick," he said, "because people of today are not living up to the high ideals. New ideals are not needed, the old ones are sufficient. The principles of the Scout Oath and Law are the finest code of living which can be followed today."

Toner Heads Savings Bonds Division

Secretary of the Treasury, John W. Snyder, has just announced the appointment of James V. Toner, Boston Utility Executive and resident of Newton, as State Chairman of the Savings Bonds Division.

Mr. Toner, who is President and General Manager of the Boston Edison Company, will assume his duties immediately and succeeds F. Winchester Denio who directed the Division, then known as the War Finance Committee, from the Fourth War Loan through the post-war reorganization and who now returns to resume his duties as Vice President of the First National Bank of Boston. Secretary Snyder paid warm tribute to Mr. Denio's patriotic services.

Mr. Toner brings to his new endeavor a wealth of experience in organizing and directing work. Trained as an accountant, and passing through the stages of teacher, author and practitioner, he took up executive duties with the Boston Edison about ten years ago and in 1941 became President and General Manager of the great utility which supplies light, power and heat to Metropolitan Boston.

In accepting the chairmanship, Mr. Toner said: "I appreciate the honor of this appointment. I realize its responsibilities because the success of the savings bonds program is imperative in view of world conditions. 'It was not difficult in wartime to see the relationship of war bonds to victory on the battlefronts. Today the need is urgent for all of us to recognize the fact that savings bonds have a like relationship to maintenance of peace.'

LILLIAN SWARTZ

For several years an interesting little scene has been enacted at the Hawthorne playground in Nonantum. A serviceman in uniform or in his first civvies will stop to watch the throng of children at play. And inevitably he will seek out the brown-haired woman director who seems to be everywhere at once.

"Remember me, Miss Swartz? Am I glad to be back!" he'll say. A smile crosses her sun tanned face and crinkles about her blue

Lillian was graduated from Newton High and from the Posse-Nissen School of Physical Education (now part of the Bouve School of Physical Education.) Then she entered the recreation field when Mr. Ernest Herman was Commissioner of Recreation in Newton. The Italian people in Nonantum had saved their pennies, dimes and dollars to buy a lot for playground use. Named the Hawthorne playground, it was given with the stipulation that the city build and equip a playfield. Lillian Swartz was the first director. Today the Hawthorne playground has two ball fields, a separate children's area with lots of apparatus and a small portable garage to store the equipment. And it still has Lillian Swartz whenever weather conditions make it possible to use the field. She longs for a building where indoor games can take place all year long.

Right now Lillian is working part time at Bullough's Pond where skaters and hockey players congregate. "I like anything athletic," she says. "Weather does not affect me at all. And it hasn't felt cold to me this winter. There's just been too much snow at one time. It spoiled some of the skating."

Few people would consider Lillian Swartz an athletic Amazon at first glance. She's a bare five feet tall with dainty, tapering fingers and white, even teeth. But look closely and you'll find her hard muscled and husky. She's never ill. She'll drive her car to a certain spot on the Charles River and think nothing of hiking five miles. She loves any kind of athletics. Especially baseball.

"Father used to take me to games, instead of taking my brothers. I learned to keep score professionally. One day I sat right down in front at a Red Sox game. There was a minister on one side and a priest on the other. They watched my score keeping and leaned over to see what I marked for each play. It surprised both of them to see me doing it the professional way!"

For quieter activities Lillian collects recipes for New England dishes. Baked beans, broiled swordfish and Indian pudding are among her favorites. She likes the theatre, poetry and Dr. Joshua Loth Liebman's "Peace of Mind." She attends Temple Israel in Boston as a great admirer of Dr. Liebman.

And ever present is Lillian Swartz's desire to bring out the best in youth. "I think recreation is as vital as school in training children," she maintains. "Of course you cannot always tell what the fruit of the tree will be but discipline can be a great factor in raising children. I noticed that parents fell down in this during the war. There were too many 'door key' children. But any program depends on the leader, whether it's recreation, school or family life. But if you maintain discipline and seek cooperation, you have nearly everything."

Music School Bldg. Fund to Benefit by "Pops" March 12

The Pops Concert to be held at the Newton High School on Friday evening, March 12, will be the first of a series of such annual "Pops" for the benefit of the building fund of the All Newton Music School. In this way, it is hoped to reduce the mortgage on the Music School's new home until it is completely cleared.

The concert, sponsored jointly by the board of trustees and the mothers' Auxiliary, promises to be an outstanding social event of the early spring season. There will be many dinner parties before the concert, with hostesses and guests going on to the concert later.

The affair is of community wide interest, because of the unusually fine musical program to be presented by the High Pines Symphony Orchestra under the baton of Carlos Pinfold of the Boston Symphony Orchestra. (Continued on Page 8)

Newton Red Cross Active in Counselling Service

Mrs. Edith C. Chase, Home Service Director of the Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross, states that since the 1946 national survey which was undertaken to enable this branch of the Red Cross to fit into place in peacetime, there have been no specific changes in the program. The emphasis now is primarily on the veteran, his family, and dependents, although the peacetime army is afforded the same services as during the war.

"Servicemen" and "veterans" include both men and women of all wars. Concerned with the period of adjustment for veterans the Home Service offers counsel and guidance particularly with regard to health, budgets, and nutrition or personal relations. This service is increasing as the veteran struggles to meet problems engendered by the increasing cost of living. Assisting the veteran and his dependents in presenting claims for pension and other government benefits still continues, and as Mrs. Chase points out, finding substantiating evidence for these claims grows more difficult as documents may have been destroyed or lost, and finding widely scattered comrades to confirm claims takes a great deal of time and persistent effort.

Financial service is also given to tide over the veteran and his (Continued on Page 7)

Among the mayor's recommendations was the purchase of a new ambulance, chief's car and a beach wagon for the radio technician. For the Veterans Housing the sum of $2,500 was recommended. (Continued on Page 10)

Will TAXES Take a Slice of Your Life Insurance?

Under the Federal estate tax law, your life insurance may be taxable.

An estate tax on the proceeds of your policies may reduce the amount payable to your life insurance beneficiaries unless your will provides otherwise. If you have set up your insurance under "optional modes" of settlement, the tax may also reduce income payments.

The possible taxation of your life insurance and its effect on your beneficiaries is only one thing you should consider in planning your estate. Other matters are equally important.

Scouts Report to Mayor On 1947 Good Deeds

Throughout America during Boy Scout Anniversary Week a "Report to the Nation" was being made by every city and town of the country—when a summary of the Community Service projects for the year was presented to the elected governing official of each city and town. Norumbega Council, Boy Scouts of America, of Newton and Wellesley made its report to Mayor Theodore R. Lockwood, when a delegation of 4 Eagle Scouts, W. Bradford Chase, David Starkweather, Morris Berg and Robert Larsen, along with Scout Commissioner Edward C. Michaud and Scout Executive Robert E. Pettit, presented Mayor Lockwood with a summary of the Good Turns of the Council for 1947.

Mayor Lockwood was host to the delegation in his office at City Hall and the Mayor expressed his appreciation of Scout- ing to the delegation and pledged his support and interest of himself, as well as the City of Newton.

Eagle Scout David Starkweather handed the report to the Mayor and stated that a similar report was being made throughout America, and also in the office of the President of the United States in Washington—where 12 representatives of Scouts from all over America attended the President.

Because cerebral palsy victims are a badly neglected group, it aims to use a big part of the funds from the 1948 Seal Sale to expand its facilities for these victims. Working with other agencies, it plans shortly to open a cerebral palsy treatment and training center in Springfield and other small centers later throughout the state.

Dr. Reeve H. Betts to Head Surgical Unit in India

by Sarah Shields Pfeiffer

As the culmination of a long desire to become a medical missionary Dr. Reeve H. Betts of 51 Devon road, Newton Centre, sailed Tuesday with his family to live permanently in India. He will head the thoracic surgical unit at the All-India Christian Medical College at Vellore, South India. The only Christian Medical College in India, it is supported both internationally and interdenominationally by 34 Mission Boards.

Born in Salem, Oregon, Dr. Betts was graduated from Willamette University at Salem, Oregon. He took his medical training at the Harvard Medical School and served his internship in the Rhode Island Hospital at Providence. He then had a one year fellowship in the Lahey Clinic in Boston and served an additional year on the staff of the Clinic.

In 1942 Dr. Betts entered the army and served three and a half years as head of a unit doing chest surgery. He was awarded the Legion of Merit by the United States Government, received the Military Valor Cross from the Italian Government and wears six battle stars. Since returning to civilian life, he has practiced his specialty, thoracic surgery, in Boston and achieved wide renown.

Dr. Betts was married to Miss Martha Jones of Nashville, Tenn., in 1940. She was a graduate of Sweet Briar College for Women at Sweet Briar, Va. Their three children are Eugene, five, and the twins, Anne and Peter, four. After closing their home in preparation for the journey the Betts were guests of Mrs. Betts' mother, Mrs. H. E. Jones at 251 Grant Avenue.

"The first hospital at Vellore DR. REEVE H. BETTS was established by Dr. Ida S. Scudder," Dr. Betts said. "She is of the third generation of a family that has given more than 1,200 years of service to India. She saw the need for training the women of India in health improvement because for the most part Indian women refused to be treated by male doctors. In 1918 the Medical College was established with Dr. Scudder as Principal. But now the Christian Medical College trains both men and women to be doctors. It also provides an advanced training course for nurses, qualifying them to teach in other nursing schools."

(Bachrach)

The city of Vellore is located about 80 miles west of the city of Madras on the southeastern coast of India. It is 4 miles from the main railroad line between Madras and Bangalore. With a population of 70,000 Vellore lies in an area that is densely populated.

Dr. Betts has never been to India before but he chose this field for mission work through the Christian Medical Council for Overseas Work. "I understand that India has millions of people with tuberculosis and other diseases. So there is a great deal to be done in my special field of thoracic surgery."

George Washington

Above all the great men in our nation's history towers the mighty figure of George Washington, the Father of our country. Today, in these unsettled times, and as we are about to celebrate his birthday, we would do well to ask ourselves wherein his greatness lay.

Washington's greatness was in his honesty, sincerity, clear thinking and generous understanding of the people in the thirteen colonies and their problems. He was always guided by unselfish principles and a desire to do the utmost for his country. He lived for the nation first, himself second. Although he was the wealthiest man of his day and had much to lose and little to gain by the revolution he did not hesitate in accepting the leadership of the tattered band of patriots that served as an Army. He fought the revolution and won it for the good of the people—thus by devotion to his country exemplifying the spirit of what, today, we know as "The Four Freedoms".

When the revolution had been successfully waged and won, again he placed country ahead of self and personal gain. He agreed to become this country's first president. Under his leadership the colonies learned the two principal requisites of good government; defense against aggression and the capability to govern themselves amicably and well in peace. By his personal life, ambitions and ideals he set forth an example of moral integrity and honesty that made his success possible.

Today as we are faced with the many and complex problems of world readjustment and reconstruction, inflationary living costs here at home, we would do well to pattern ourselves after the father of our country. We, in our every day existence must face situations that call for character, honesty, integrity and the strength to make the right decision and follow the right course no matter how difficult this may be. We must constantly put the welfare of all and the good of Newton, the state, and the nation above personal gain and acclaim.

Guided by Washington's spirit and remembering his courageous honesty we and our leaders in city, state and national governments can attain greatness. Only if each and every one of us put the good of all above the personal gain of one or a few will we ever reach the goal of peace and solidarity that George Washington wanted so much for this great nation.

Thus George Washington's message to us in 1789 could well be summed up by his words: "Let us raise a standard to which the wise and honest can repair; the event is in the hand of God."

Solving Parking Problems

It is indeed refreshing to note how the Newton Centre Business Men's Association tackled the parking problem in the Newton Centre business area at the first business meeting of the Association this week. It was brought out that the merchants and their employees were themselves in part responsible for the parking difficulties. It was found that they themselves were offenders of all day parking in front of their respective places of business.

A resolution was thereupon proposed to instruct all merchants to park their cars on side streets or in the rear of their stores, thus providing more parking space for shoppers.

It is hoped by the association that this will alleviate the parking problem, at least in some measure.

This action could well be copied by other districts in the city of Newton as this plan had been previously adopted by the Business and Professional Association of Newton Corner with excellent results.

Child's Natural Rights Denied

"The past 50 years of what we call civilization have ruined urban childhood," declares Philip Wylie in The Reader's Digest for March. "The automobile, restricting children to yard or block, has conditioned their very impulse to chase a ball. Parents, trying to barricade their children from perils, have fenced in schoolyards and hired more cops at corners, more counselors at camp. As soon as he can crawl, the child is impounded in a playpen which frustrates his every vital instinct."

In an article condensed from The Atlantic Monthly, Wylie holds that only through "a process of adventure, experience and exploit" can a child become an emotionally mature and self-reliant adult. But fearful parents, instead of aiding this process, inhibit its development by over-protection.

Many parents, in the artificial life of our urban centers, are themselves lacking in basic experience, Wylie contends. "They join welfare and hygiene societies, but have never seen a chicken killed or a kitten born. They cross the Atlantic, but they cannot swim. They have slept in hotels in Cairo and Bombay, but never in the woods. They drive to the top of Pike's Peak, but they have never shinned a tree."

Without such basic experience, adults lack self-reliance, the author maintains. Adult fears, ranging from an anxiety about crossing the street to panic over the possibility of another war, are projected upon children, in the shape of parental tabus and restrictions of the very activities essential to youngsters. Cited as an example is our "safe and sane" Fourth of July, which destroyed "the most emotionally potent national fiesta America ever had . . . the day of greatest boyhood independence."

The one discipline which a child must have, he asserts, is the natural discipline of cause and effect—"the perfect honesty of nature and the inviolability of its laws. Children have the right to observe and experience every fact of nature in environs where they can dig, pluck, build, walk, swim or chop without let or hindrance."

But in modern urban life such expressions of a child's instincts are necessarily illegal. "If a boy peels the bark off a tree to make a toy boat to float on a pool, he destroys somebody's birch, his dad has to pay, and the old lady who owns the goldfish pond has him chased by policemen."

In Great Britain the Labor Party refuses to be downcast and says it will not call national election. In the United States nobody can call a national election. But Uncle Sam will have one in November 1948, and then a lot of things will be definitely decided.

No matter how little the average Red thinks of our Constitution, he is always a stickler for standing on his own constitutional rights.

A minister reports that his congregation gathered at the church to pray for rain and only one brought an umbrella. O ye of little faith.

Remember when father used to say, "Go easy on the butter, kids, it's 30 cents a pound."

Newton in the Past

From the files of the Newton Graphic

55 Years Ago—February 17, 1893
NEWTON—The heavy snow of Monday promised fine sleighing but the mercury was too high and the streets and walks have been in a terrible condition in consequence.

AUBURNDALE—There are slight changes in the time of the Boston morning trains, just enough to cause one unfamiliar with them to miss his train.

NEWTON CENTRE—Several young hoodlums made a raid on the ash barrels Tuesday evening and committed other acts of vandalism. Fortunately some of their acts were witnessed by a resident of Pelham street, who has secured the names of the participants. It has been decided not to make any arrests this time, but if these acts of lawlessness are repeated the culprits will receive the full benefit of the law.

50 Years Ago—February 13, 1898
NEWTONVILLE—The new yellow snow plow owned by the Boston & Wellesley Street Railway caused considerable fright among the horses this week. During the storm of Wednesday the horses attached to a cab of the Newtonville Cab Co. were frightened and a collision was the result. No serious damage was done.

WABAN—The feeling in regard to the street railway, which is being talked of for this place, seems to be strongly against it. While it is to be expected sometime, yet at the present time it is not deemed necessary and before such a thing was granted there would be a strong remonstrance.

WEST NEWTON—The fire department responded Tuesday night to a still alarm for a small fire in the Allen School for Girls on Webster street, caused by lace curtains coming in contact with the lighted gas jet.

WASHINGTON WAS A PIKER I

Politics With Color

by P. W. C.

(The opinions expressed in this column are the writer's own, and do not necessarily reflect the views or policy of this newspaper.—Editor's Note).

The Aldermen Reform

If any old-timers had been present last Monday evening at the meeting of our Board of Aldermen they would have been shocked, but delighted, to note the speed with which our local statesmen operated. Instead of the customary long recess for committee meetings between 8:15 or thereabouts, the Board was back on the job soon after 9:30. Adjournment would have taken place at 10 had it not been for the desire of one or two Aldermen to have a session of the "Committee as a whole" in order to arrive at an agreement concerning a rather controversial tax license. As it was, the Board adjourned about 10:45 p.m. Incidentally, I learned more about the technique of granting tax licenses than I had picked up in over a decade. My congratulations to President Bauckman, who seems determined to do away with those ghastly long evenings on the first and third Mondays of each month.

Convention Delegates

In line with last week's brief comment on G.O.P. convention delegates I shall continue with the discussion now. To begin with, the difficulties of the Republicans appear to have originated with the decision of Attorney General Clarence A. Barnes to be one of the seven delegates-at-large next June. Here was the situation. Four spots on the delegation were tied down, for obvious reasons, by Governor Bradford, Senators Saltonstall and Lodge and Speaker of the House Joe Martin, our leading Representative in the lower branch of Congress. Then, it seemed highly advisable to give the ladies recognition and Mrs. Charles P. Howard, our National Committeewoman, was the natural choice. A sixth spot was desired, and with reason, by the Republicans in the western part of the state. That left one position open and that was supposed to go to our National Committeeman, former Mayor Sinclair Weeks.

Now, what is the situation today? Weeks, in the interest of party harmony, and with the knowledge that Barnes would undoubtedly run anyway, even if the official leaders of the party failed to make a place on the delegation for him, decided to run as a delegate in our own Tenth Congressional district. It was decided to have Congressman Christian A. Herter team up with former Mayor Weeks. At that point, Joseph B. Jamieson, until recently President of our Board of Aldermen, withdrew his own candidacy, despite the fact that he had only very recently announced his intention of running.

As of today, there will be a very lively contest between Messrs. Weeks and Herter and the original team of Reps. Allen of Brookline and Lobel of Allston. Both of these communities are in our own Congressional district. What will happen? If the customary pitifully small vote turns out at the Presidential Primary in late April, it is conceivable that Weeks and Herter, powerful tho' they may be, will have a strenuous time defeating Allen and Lobel. The latter, to date, have not indicated that they would withdraw, although there is always that possibility. Newtonians will certainly "view with alarm" the thought that the G.O.P. National Committeeman and a former Mayor, together with our distinguished Congressman Herter, might take a licking for the two positions as delegates from this area.

My suggestion would be that the G.O.P. start quickly and work harder than they have for years if they want to send Messrs. Weeks and Herter to the June convention.

Presidential Candidates

Just as Time magazine comes out with some comment regarding the sudden growth of Senator Vandenberg of Michigan as an excellent dark-horse for the G.O.P. nomination, in the event of a deadlock between Governor Dewey and Senator Taft, along comes the Boston Post with a story to the effect that Senator Vandenberg's doctor will shortly advise him that a recently discovered heart condition will preclude any possibility of a candidacy for the Presidential nomination. Of course, there has always been the question of the Michigan Senator's age, which is a bit advanced for a grueling job such as the occupant of the White House has. Now, if the Post is correct, the G.O.P. will have suffered a second set-back within a short space of time. The first set-back, of course, was General Eisenhower's definite withdrawal of his name from consideration. Public opinion polls had indicated that the General was the only Republican who could, as of today, defeat President Truman. Now, if Vandenberg has to be eliminated from serious consideration, the G.O.P. faces a much more serious task.

By the way, it is necessary to report at this time that Speaker Joseph W. Martin, Jr., of North Attleboro appears to be gaining in favor as a long-shot dark-horse, provided the convention gets seriously deadlocked. This man is, without question, a capable Congressman and skilled leader of our Congress. However, may I pose the following question at this time? Is Speaker Martin enough of a statesman to make the grade? Not every Congressman is Presidential timber and that is said with all due respect to the Speaker. Indeed, it has been said a number of Republicans in this vicinity that a Truman-Martin contest might find altogether too many Republicans jumping the traces and voting for the builder of the famous back-porch on the White House. If you doubt this statement, conduct a quiet poll of your own, being careful, of course, to avoid machine Republicans who may be expected to stand by the party candidate regardless of merit and qualifications for the highest office the people can bestow on any public servant.

DINING with JANE and BILL

Setting: 1:30 p.m., Sunday, February 22, 1948

Junior—What's for dessert Mom, anything special?
Jane—Just wait and see. First, eat your dinner and then you'll see the surprise I have for you and Dad.

Bill—Could it be that delicate, molded, pudding Junior and I saw you placing in the refrigerator?

Jane—Well, since you caught me in the act, I'll tell you about the special treat, that I have in store for you.

Junior—Mom, you know you can't keep anything secret from Dad and me.

Jane—Since this is Washington's Birthday, I thought we would celebrate by having Raspberry Bavarian Cream, topped with raspberries.

Junior and Bill (in unison)—Oh, Swell! Bring it on.

Jane—Here it is. Let me serve you some. Hope you like it.

Junior—Gee Mom that looks good.

Bill—Say Jane, this makes a wonderful holiday dessert. What's in here—whipped cream?

Jane—No, Bill, chilled evaporated milk in place of heavy cream. Aren't you amazed to think you didn't even know the difference.

Bill—Yes, I am.

Jane—The evaporated milk also helps to keep the food budget down.

Bill—Good for you! Say, who not give the recipe to Betty next door. Then Bob and Dick can be pleasantly surprised tomorrow night.

Raspberry Bavarian Cream

1 tsp. gelatin
¼ cup cold water
¼ cup sugar
¼ cup water
1 cup crushed raspberries (frozen or canned)
1 tsp. lemon juice
2/3 cup chilled evaporated milk (or heavy cream)

Put the gelatin in the top of a double boiler; pour in ¼ cup cold water, let stand for 5 to 10 minutes at room temperature; add the sugar and the remaining water. Stir over boiling water until the gelatin and sugar have dissolved. Remove from the stove; add the crushed raspberries and lemon juice. Set the top of the double boiler in a pan of very cold water until the jelly is of the consistency of an unbeaten egg white. With a rotary beater, beat the jelly until light and the evaporated milk. Fold the jelly into the milk. Place in individual serving dishes. Place in refrigerator. Jelling time 2 to 4 hours. Top with raspberries if desired. Remember, to save those pennies, use evaporated milk for the dessert.

Newton's Younger Generation

IT'S "SKIPPER" CHAMBERLIN we present this week — a man who's an authority on boats. He, to use his own words, is "almost four years old." He comes rightly by this interest in anything that sails on the water, because it's his daddy's hobby also. He's the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis C. Chamberlin, 303 Highland avenue, West Newton. Next to boats he's fond of his baby brother, Douglas, who is now 12 weeks old, and we wouldn't be surprised if Skipper hasn't already been whispering in his ear about what fun it is to sail a boat. Auburndale Woman's Club

Colorful slides showing the beauties and wonders of Yellowstone National Park were presented to members of the Auburndale Woman's Club on Tuesday afternoon by Mr. David H. Bremer, former ranger. Set aside solely for the enjoyment of all the people, this oldest and largest National Reservation contains many spectacular geysers and waterfalls, unusual geological formations, abundant wild life, hundreds of lakes and over a thousand strange hot pools, said Mr. Bremer. Located in the northwest corner of Wyoming and surrounded by high ranges of mountains, it is a high plateau with an average elevation of 8,000 feet. Three hundred miles of fine highways and 900 miles of trails are open to the tourist.

Reviewing the history of the Park briefly, Mr. Bremer stated that Jim Bridger, a beaver hunter, discovered the area early in the 19th century but was unable to convince people of the wonders he saw there. Later, in 1870, citizens of Montana entered the country and decided to set it aside as a reservation. Through their efforts, Congress was urged to make a survey of the region, and in 1872 it was set aside as America's first National Park.

Mrs. Edmund I. Wilson, Chairman of the Conservation Committee, introduced the speaker. She also gave a report on the progress made by the Memorial Federal Forest Committee of the State Federation. $2,300, she said, has been collected toward this Forest. It is expected that

Episcopal Church

Members to Hear

Bishop Sherrill

On Sunday, February 29th, substantially every member of the Episcopal Church will hear the voice of their Presiding Bishop, the Rt. Rev. Henry Knox Sherrill, by means of a new and extraordinary use of radio. In Newton Highlands, the congregation of St. Paul's Church will sit in their pews and at exactly 11:32½ a.m., the Presiding Bishop's voice will be heard, telling of the needs of war-devastated countries in Europe and Asia.

The Episcopal Church gave more than a million dollars in 1947 through its Presiding Bishop's Fund for World Relief, and it intends to raise the same amount or more in 1948. The entirely new use of radio opens what is expected to be a very brief and highly successful campaign.

At the Sunday Service February 29, when Bishop Sherrill's ten-minute address ends, the Rector of St. Paul's, Rev. Richard A. Cartmell will tell his people how they may have a part in this program of aid for the distressed, through the Presiding Bishop's Fund. Then the opportunity will be given for both immediate gifts and short-time pledges. At national church headquarters in New York City it was stated recently that "Our 1,600,000 people can raise $1,000,000 for the Presiding Bishop's Fund for World Relief IN ONE DAY if each parish and mission will do its share."

As Episcopal Church people are being told of the forthcoming event, and parish organizations are busily engaged in getting promises of attendance, it is expected that congregations will be extremely large, so that most members of the Church will hear the message. Certainly well over a million people, seated in Episcopal churches will hear Bishop Sherrill tell of what he has seen personally in Europe, and what is the Church's task at this critical period in the World's history.

This is the first time radio has been used by any Church in such a way, to convey a message to its whole constituency at one time.

dependents during emergencies or periods before funds are due to be paid. Referral service works with other agencies in a community to the end that the veteran may receive the best and most appropriate consideration for his problem. Supplying requested information concerning government regulations and legislation affecting veterans and their dependents is another very important but perhaps not so well-known a part of the function of Home Service.

Sending reports to civil, naval or military authorities concerning servicemen and veterans is an important service, although the Red Cross merely assists in transmitting relevant data but does not have the authority to grant leaves or furloughs. It serves as an agency to see that the facts of a case are in the hands of the proper authorities.

Citizenship, military settlement, or legal residence is not a prerequisite for assistance from Home Service. The Newton Chapter offers twenty-four hour service with office hours from nine to five on weekdays, and Saturdays, nine to twelve noon, and by appointment. The telephone is BL 4-9590, and the Chapter House is located at 21 Foster Street, Newtonville.

The Home Service peacetime staff consists of the director, a clerical worker, and two volunteers, Mrs. Joyce Hyde, a social worker, and Mrs. Mary Benson, clerical worker. The group handles an average of 124 cases a month, 103 of which are ex-servicemen.

The Home Service Case Committee is composed of Mr. Carl F. Schipper, Jr., Chairman, Mr. Raymond Blaisdell, Mr. Charles R. Cabot, Mr. Charles Floyd, Mr. Charles E. Hughes, the Reverend Richard P. McClintock, Mr. Loomis Patrick, Mr. Joseph H. Randall, Miss Cora Riley, and Miss Esther M. Walker.

N. C. Church Junior Dept. Enjoys Outing

Fourteen members of the Junior Department of the Newton Centre Methodist Church enjoyed an outing on Friday the thirteenth on Winchester street, Newton Highlands, at the home of Mrs. Merrill A. Beem, the newly appointed Superintendent of the Department. The group made use of the facilities for tobogganing, skiing, and sliding which are part of the activities of the Supervised Play Group conducted by Mr. Beem.

In spite of a snow flurry during the latter part of the afternoon the boys and girls participated in the different winter sports. Good performances on the skis were given by some who were making their first appearance on the boards.

At the supper hour the activities centered in the Quonset Hut where weenies were toasted over the coals in the spacious fieldstone fireplace. After the meal table games were played, followed by songs and stunts. The closing moments were spent in a brief fireside worship service.

In theory, atomic power can drive a submarine of World War II type at 30 knots submerged for a year without refueling.

FAREWELL, MY LOVES, one of the oils by Katrine Amory Hooper being exhibited during February at the Clairhorne Galleries, 243 Washington street, Newton Corner, during February. Each month the galleries show the works of a local artist.

Exhibit of Modern Paintings At Clairhorne Galleries

At the Clairhorne Galleries, 243 Washington street, Newton, there is a very laudable one man exhibition of modern paintings being shown. These extremely interesting oil paintings were done by Katrine Amory Hooper. They are modern in mood, subject and color and are well executed. Through courageous use of color and broad sweeping line they interpret well the rhythm, music and feeling of modern dance.

She has used as her subject matter Jan Veen Dancers. And she has successfully reproduced paintings that express movement and direction. There is a searching, haunting quality about her work that will appeal to all and make a visit to the Clairhorne Galleries a well remembered treat.

Katrine Amory Hooper studied painting and drawing for five years with Kimon Nicolaides at the Art Students League in New York and at his summer school in New Hampshire. She has done intensive study in composition, still life, design and drawing from models.

She has had one man exhibitions in New York, Boston, Washington D. C., and many other cities.

Guild of the Holy Name Fashion Show and Bridge

Mrs. Anthony S. J. Tomasello is General Chairman for the Fashion Promenade and Bridge which the Guild of the Holy Name of West Roxbury is sponsoring on Wednesday afternoon, February 25 in the Ball room of the Copley Plaza Hotel.

One of the outstanding fashion experts of this vicinity, the owner of Ross Modes of Newton and Falmouth, will present clothes these gowns, recently purchased from his collection. Many of being flown over from Paris and will be here in time to show the "newest" look to those who attend this affair. All of these clothes will be displayed by professional models, while soft strains of appropriate music evoked by the skillful fingers of the members of Marchand's orchestra will provide a fitting background for this presentation. Mrs. William F. Kane is Chairman of the Fashion Promenade and assures us that it will be a most enjoyable one.

Newton Man Life Insurance Leader

Mr. Eric S. Marmorek of 221 Holland Street Newtonville agent and supervisor of the Home Protective Bureau of the Phoenix Mutual Life Insurance Company in Boston won high honors in 1947 and was appointed to the President's Field Staff, the highest award given by the Company to its field men.

Mr. Marmorek UH is a member of the Half Million Dollar Club. To qualify for this Club one must write at least $500,000 of life insurance in one year. He is also a member of the Boston Real Estate Board, Dalhousie Lodge A.F. & A.M., and the Boston Life Underwriters Association, the oldest trade association of its kind in the country.

that immediate plans of the committee are to instruct all merchants and employees in the Newton Centre area who own cars to park these cars on side streets or in back of their respective places of business. Mr. Garten and his committee feel strongly that this program should be strictly enforced.

The traffic committee is made up of the following men: John Ryan, William Skelton, Irving Atwood, Albert Bonazoli, Leo Burke. It is hoped that all business men and their associates in Newton Centre will cooperate with this new program as proposed by Mr. Garten and his committee. The next meeting of the Newton Centre Business Men's Association will be held early in March.

friends, and nearby-neighborhoods for orders for the attractively boxed sandwich, filled chocolate and vanilla cookies. Give the girls a warm welcome urges Mrs. Pillsbury. They will give each order careful attention and cookies will be delivered by the Scout taking the order on March 20.

Cookies are made by a national concern, approved by the Girl Scouts of the United States of America. Boxes contain 24 cookies or cartons of 24 boxes may be ordered through the Girl Scout office, village chairmen or the girls. Serving as village cookie chairmen are Mrs. Harlan Ballard, Jr. and Mrs. Arthur Hare, Newtonville; Mrs. John Harding Newton Highlands; Mrs. Robert Pettit, Newton Centre; Mrs. William White, Auburndale; Mrs. Charles Anderson, Lower Falls; Mrs. Albert Ravinski, Upper Falls; Mrs. Harlan F. 'Pops'—

Numbered among the players will be many Newton people headed by Irene Forte as concert mistress. Miss Forte is co-director of music and head of the string department of the All Newton Music School. Miss Edna Tuckerman, teacher of cello at the school, is also a member of the orchestra, as are several former students.

Present pupils at the All Newton Music School headed by Elvajan Hall, Esther Height, and Eleanor Sprowl will serve as ushers and waitresses. Mrs. Durham Jones is chairman of this committee assisted by Mrs. Harold Jones and Mrs. Donald MacKenzie.

Mrs. Sylvester McGinn, chairman of the Mothers' Auxiliary, met on Friday morning, February 13, with the village chairmen to complete arrangements for decorations and refreshments. This group is planning surprises to help the cause and to make the evening an enjoyable one. Committee members present included Mrs. Ralph Hall and Mrs. William Tisdell of Auburndale, Mrs. Donald Smith, Miss Emma Menge, Mrs. Julius Morton, Mrs. John Scabia, Mrs. Donald MacKenzie, of Newton, Mrs. Roland Macdonald and Mrs. Philip O'Connor of Newtonville, Mrs. Henry Corcoran of Newton Lower Falls, and Mrs. John Reuling of West Newton.

It is very much hoped that friends who wish to attend will get their reservations in early, as the High School gymnasium in which the concert will be given, allows for only 230 tables. About half of these have already been reserved and the committee is anxious that any who may want to attend need not be turned away. Cards giving details are being mailed from the Music School office during this week. For further information those interested may call the office, Lasell 7-1754.

The rat population of the U. S. is thought to be about the same as the human population, with three-fourths of the rats living on farms. The most efficient means of causing wholesale destruction of rats is through the use of poisons, or rodenticides, as they are known.

and Mrs. A. E. Voysey, West Newton.

Your cooperation with the Girl Scout cookie crusade for camping will be greatly appreciated, asserted Mrs. Pillsbury.

LEADING THE WAY INTO A NEW GOLDEN ERA...

FUTURAMIC OLDSMOBILE

Oldsmobile, America's oldest motor car manufacturer, is now the first to mark its Golden Anniversary. In celebration, Oldsmobile announces an entirely new and greatly advanced 1948 model... the FUTURAMIC OLDSMOBILE.

For 1948... The Big News Is The New Olds! A brand new Oldsmobile "98" is here today! It's the first of the Futuramic cars... introducing the first of the eagerly awaited new "postwar" Bodies by Fisher. It's Oldsmobile's Golden Anniversary model—and carries to a new high the Oldsmobile tradition of smartness!

When you see this Futuramic Oldsmobile, you'll realize what important news it brings. There's style news in its clean, flowing Futuramic lines—its modern simplicity inside and out. There's safety news in the greater visibility provided by the new, low hood design curved windshield, and extra size windows.

There's welcome news for passengers, too, in the lower, wider, roomier Futuramic body. And there's good news underneath the hood—a new high-compression head which adds extra horsepower to Oldsmobile's famous 8-cylinder engine.

Naturally, this brand new 1948 model offers Oldsmobile's fully proved Futuramic feature—GM Hydra-Matic Drive*. Here's driving at its ultra-modern best. No clutch pushing—no gear shifting—just "step on the gas and go!" You go smoothly... comfortably... with thrilling performance... the Futuramic, Hydra-Matic way.

See the Futuramic Oldsmobile "98"—the colorful new Dynamic Oldsmobile "60" and "70"—on display in our showroom.

Miss Carey to Speak At N. C. Church

"Only Christianity can give the Japanese the right interpretation of democracy. Today the church faces the greatest opportunity to Christianize Japan that it has ever had," says Miss Alice E. Cary, Secretary of the American Board of Foreign Missions for Japan, Mexico, Micronesia and the Philippines. She will speak Tuesday afternoon, March 2, in the First Congregational Church of Newton in Newton Centre.

Miss Cary spent last year in Occupied Japan as the one woman member of an important interdenominational Commission sent out, right after peace came, by the Foreign Missions Conference of North America. Her stay there had two unusual highlights: an audience with Emperor Hirohito to, making her the second woman thus recognized; and a long and significant interview with General Douglas MacArthur. While in Japan she saw the metamorphosis of a nation once worshipping a "divine" emperor, into a people enthusiastic about democracy and ardently admiring General MacArthur and the American GIs.

Miss Cary speaks from no superficial knowledge of Japan. She was born there, spent her there as a social service mission-childhood there, and worked in Osaka for over 25 years.

After graduation from Wellesley College, Miss Cary went back to Japan for work in Yodogawa Neighborhood House in Osaka, then known as the "Pittsburgh of Japan." During World War I she did relief work for nine months with the Red Cross in Siberia. When World War II forced her out of Japan she stopped in Hawaii enroute to the USA for four years as a member of the staff of the Church-of-the-Cross-Roads. She was there on fateful Pearl Harbor day.

In September 1945 Miss Cary was called to the post of an American Board secretary with headquarters in Boston. Hardly had she started work when the Foreign Missions Conference of North America asked that she be lent as the one woman member of an important Commission they were sending out at the end of hostilities to study the

HORUMBEA COUNCIL, INC., BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA
A RED FEATHER AGENCY

COURT OF HONOR: Mr. Warren Oliver, Chairman of the Advancement Committee of Norumbega Council, announces the preparations for the annual Boy Scout Week Court of Honor have been completed. Headlining the advancement at this Court will be the Eagle Scout Award, which will be made to five candidates by the President of Norumbega Council, F. Brittain Kennedy. Special awards to be made are the annual B. S. A. plaques to all Units participating in the project during the last quarter of 1947. The Camporee winners will be announced and the presentation will be made by the Camping Chairman, John Starkweather. This will be the first announcement as to the final postwar church situation in Japan and possible future programs by the various boards.

Of her meeting with Emperor Hirohito, Miss Cary speaks with sympathy and understanding. She came away from her interview with General MacArthur encouraged by his sincere interest in the Christianity and the missionary movement and his conviction that there now is an opportunity to Christianize Japan never before offered. "Either we accept the challenge or lose a chance we shall never have again," Miss Cary declares.

In her informal way, Miss Cary tells of a Japan of demolished homes, gutted buildings, gaunt chimneys, hunger, patched clothing, hazardous travel. She found a people disillusioned by the false promises of their leaders. Interviewed by the press, Miss Cary said: "One of the very important functions of the Christian churches in Japan today is to interpret true democracy. Non-Christian Japanese are coming to appreciate and admire Christian character and an increasing number of them are seeking the Christian way of life."

Arnold Named Insurance Co. Assistant Secretary

Following the 104th annual meeting of the New England Mutual Life Insurance Company, the promotion of Doane Arnold, 134 Vine Street, Chestnut Hill, to assistant secretary, was announced by the directors.

Mr. Arnold, a graduate of Dartmouth College in 1927, joined the company in 1930 and was appointed manager of the underwriting department in 1941. At the present time he is an executive council member of the Home Office Life Underwriters Association and a member of Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity.

How to stretch a Barrel

Shell is pushing fuel oil production to record capacity

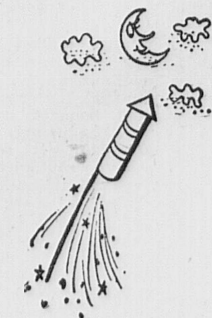

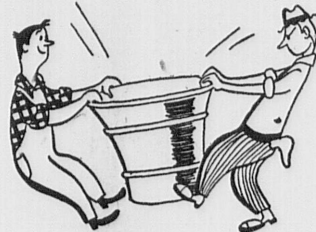

Wizardry has limits:

To get more fuel oil, why not cut down or eliminate less needed products—make all of the barrel of "crude" into heating oils? That won't work because there is a limited percentage of heating oil "components" in a barrel of petroleum. To get at the fuel oils, you must first remove a certain amount of gasoline and other products.

But a barrel can be stretched:

Shell is using all known methods—and thinking up new ones—to get you more fuel oil. Under conditions of maximum operating efficiency, every barrel of crude oil is being stretched to extract every possible drop of heating oils.

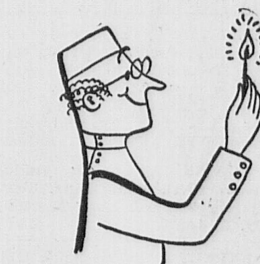

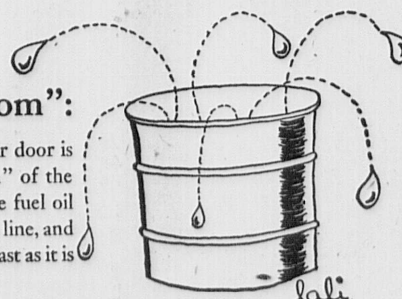

Demands do skyrocket:

Because petroleum is so useful, demands for all products are now 33.8% above the pre-war record—9.1% above war peaks! Industrial requirements are up 18%... farm demands have doubled... diesel needs are up 182%. Requirements for kerosene and heating oil are now exceeding the pre-war high by 45%.

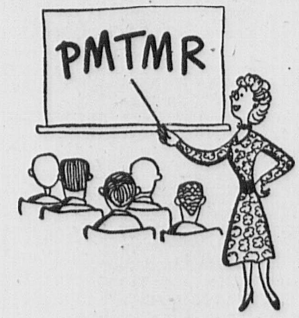

"Bouncing off the bottom":

One way to get more fuel oil to your door is to keep it "bouncing off the bottom" of the storage tanks. This means getting the fuel oil from the refinery into the supply pipe line, and on its way to the consumer, about as fast as it is made. That's being done!

Less flame—more heat:

Supplementing refinery production and distribution is Shell's Fuel Oil Laboratory—foremost of its kind in the world. Here, scientists work to get more heat from less oil... work with oil burner manufacturers to get top efficiency from fuel and burners.

PMTMR spells oil:

Ever think of the teamwork necessary to deliver a gallon of fuel oil? At Shell it means thousands of people in Production—to find and produce more "crude"... Manufacturing, to squeeze out every drop from "crude"... Transportation, to move oil to refineries and products to distributing centers... Marketing, to get them to your door... and Research, to add to product quality and operating efficiency.

68° by day—60° by night:

Despite record output, unprecedented demands for kerosene and fuel oil have resulted in a tight supply. That's where you can help. Don't overheat your house. Don't set your thermostat higher than 68°... and at night never above 60°. You can save up to 15% on your fuel oil bill by this single common-sense step.

Today, the oil industry's production of heating oils is the greatest in history—but demands are even greater. If everyone saves a little, there'll be enough for all.

Shell Oil Company, Incorporated

A forward-looking company serves the public in all 4 ways

1. The Consumer—through fair prices, good service, and the development of new and better products.
2. The Community—through actions that promote local and national welfare in peace or war.
3. Its Employees—through job security, fair wages, and the opportunity to advance.
4. Its Shareholders—through a fair return on their investment.

Newton Notables

By SARAH SHIELDS PFEIFFER

MRS. EDWIN P. MCGILL

One of the interesting parts of interviewing is to complete the picture of an individual by investigating the many facets of his personality. For instance, you try to find out what he thinks of his own accomplishments . . . how his family regards him . . . how his associates rate him . . . what makes him mad . . . and what makes him glad.

In this case the personality is Mrs. Edwin P. McGill of 89 Lowell avenue who is president of the Newtonville Woman's Club. And every answer to these questions showed that she is a charming, loved and efficient person.

Glodys Kingham McGill possesses great depth of calm resourcefulness. Her handsome brown eyes and striking profile make her a person of distinction at home or on the platform. There's only a touch of gray in her brown hair but it adds to her distinctive appearance. And she says about her present club office: "I think of myself not as an executive but as a working president. I like people so much that I enjoy being with them at all times."

Various members of the Newtonville Woman's Club stated: "Mrs. McGill made progress the theme for the first year of her presidency. She has promoted friendliness and created a fine feeling of cordiality among the 300 members."

As for Mr. McGill, he often calls their home "a clubhouse because it's filled with young friends of the three children." But both parents like it that way. Then there is the reaction of the McGill children. They like for mother to take part in outside activities.

As you can imagine there's a happy story back of this Newtonville family. The McGills met in high school and went to the same dancing assemblies. After graduation from Newton High, Gladys Kingham worked as teller in the Newton Trust Co. before marrying Mr. McGill who worked several years with Roger Babson in Wellesley. Now he is resident manager for Standard and Poor's Statistical Organization.

In the comfortable McGill living room are portraits of their two daughters. Jean, now Mrs. John Siroon, bears a remarkable resemblance to Princess Elizabeth. She attended the Vesper George School of Art. Nancy is a tall, slender blonde and graduate of Mary Washington College in Virginia. She is a secretary in Boston. Edwin, Jr., has taken an enforced vacation from Newton High to recuperate from a long, tedious case of glandular fever.

You can see evidence of Mrs. McGill's hobbies in the pale green-and-dubonnet living room. There's a beautiful rope leg table from the furniture period she prefers. There are fragile cups and saucers from a budding collection started last year as a Valentine gift from her sister. And on the floor is the muted richness of Oriental rugs because "my Yankee thrift makes me believe they are the most practical kind of rugs to own."

But every one of the nine rooms in this grey stucco house is used. The telephone rings constantly. There's a feeling of much ado about many things but with everything under control. As Mrs. McGill says, "If you are a homemaker primarily it is hard to do club work—yet it can be managed. And I pride myself on being a homemaker rather than a housekeeper."

MRS. EDWIN P. MCGILL

In the recent past Mrs. McGill was president of the Woman's Society of Christian Service at the Newtonville Methodist church. For many years she was chairman of the ways and means committee for the Girl Scouts. It was she who introduced the plan of having a circus for the Newtonville Girl Scouts, a plan still followed. In addition she works on the Home committee for the Deaconess Home for Aged Women in Concord, Mass.

"There is great activity in our Newtonville Woman's Club," Mrs. McGill states. "A large scholarship bridge is given each year. The American Home committee, with Mr. Hugh A. McCrea as chairman, put on an outstanding program which will be repeated next year. There was a splendid luncheon at noon and a Home Economics program on serving less expensive cuts of meat."

"Mrs. Frank Wightman heads the art committee which planned a wonderful exhibit of antique silver, Paisley shawls, Currier and Ives prints and original designs of Christmas cards. And now the club is looking forward to Guest Night on April 6. We expect to have Harold Russell, the gallant amputee veteran who appeared in 'Best Years of Our Lives.'"

Then Mrs. McGill told of another rich experience. She had been stage struck since a child but the chance to realize it did not come until she was 37. Her good friends, Hortense Creed Rallsback, taught at the Bishop-Lee School and induced her to take a course there. It took real planning at home to follow the classes without neglecting her family. "The instruction came too late in life to form a career," explains Mrs. McGill, "but it helped me stand up before audiences and preside. And it satisfied my long desire for dramatic training."

The McGill family are now building a little Cape Cod house at Mattapoisett on Buzzard's Bay. It will suffice for summer vacations now and for retirement later on. Like every happy family they cherish a few good stories on themselves. A favorite centers about this beach home. It was there that the hurricane of 1938 swept in to destroy their first house completely. The only possession they found afterwards was a bathing suit 30 feet up in a tree! Another year there was the threat of a tidal wave. Amid great excitement the family packed every inch of the car with their belongings. Then a relative came along and said, "You've done a good job of packing but you haven't left any space for the children and yourselves!"

Highland Glee Club Presents 88th Concert Tuesday, March 9

The 88th concert of the Highland Glee Club of Newton will be presented on the evening of Tuesday, March 9th at 8:15 o'clock in the Newton High School Auditorium.

This concert is of especial interest, not only to the sponsoring members, but to the community at large, since it marks the completion of the 40th season of Newton's oldest and most distinguished musical organization. It also marks the completion of 25 years under the musical direction of Mr. D. Ralph Maclean, and the 25th anniversary of Mr. George Wight as President of the club.

In celebration of these important milestones in the club's history, a special program has been arranged which promises to be on a high plane musically, novel in character, and full of surprises.

Mr. Reginald Boardman will be the soloist of the evening. Mr. Boardman is known throughout the country as a composer and concert pianist, and ranks high among our leading accompanists, having played for such artists as Ruth Posselt, Roland Hayes, Richard Burgin, Joseph Szigeti, and many others. The members of the glee club, both active and sponsoring, have a particular interest in Mr. Boardman, because he was accompanist for the club for several years at the time when Mr. Maclean first assumed the musical directorship, and this engagement marked the beginning of his brilliant musical career. This concert promises to be an outstanding musical event.

Central Club to Hear Former U.S. Senator Sinclair Weeks

At its regular monthly meeting on next Monday evening, the Central Club of Newtonville will have as its principal speaker former U. S. Senator Sinclair Weeks. Mr. Weeks, well known to all residents of Newton, formerly served as Mayor of this city and more recently as treasurer of the Republican National Committee. At present he is Republican National Committeeman from Massachusetts.

Needless to say, Mr. Weeks has had an intimate, first-hand experience in the affairs of the Republican party, nationally as well as in Massachusetts. In this, a most important election year, Mr. Weeks will discuss the national political situation as it bears on the conventions in early summer and the general outlook for the election next November. It can be expected that Mr. Weeks' views will be considerably more than intelligent guesses for they will be based not only on a long and active political experience but on the thinking of National Republican headquarters.

The evening will start with a dinner for members and guests at 6:30 p.m. The meeting and Mr. Weeks' address, open to all, will begin at 7:45 p.m.

State Federation to Hear M.I.T. Geology Professor

The Club Institute-Forums Department of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs, will hold a meeting at the YWCA, Boston, Mass., Thursday, March 4, at 10:30. Among the speakers will be Professor Frederick K. Morris, Professor of Geology, Mass. Institute of Technology, who will talk on "Plenty for All." Mrs. Edmund I. Wilson, of Auburndale, Chairman of the Federation Memorial Forest Fund, will present the speaker. Dr. Morris is a well-known speaker and much interest is being shown in his talk.

Unfortunately, people still get sick and the Hospital still requires a large, active corps of volunteer Gray Ladies to enable it to operate at maximum efficiency.

You have had valuable training. Don't waste it. Call the Volunteer Service Bureau, of the Newton Community Council—A Red Feather Service—today for answers to any questions about this or any of the many other opportunities for worthwhile volunteer service available in Newton. Mayor Lockwood Asks For Support of Red Cross

Annual Campaign Begins Monday, Continues Through March; Newton's Goal $75,000

Mayor T. Lockwood today called upon the citizens of Newton to support the coming Red Cross campaign for funds—in the following statement:

Each year the Red Cross becomes increasingly important, to our communities, our nation and the world. As President Truman has stated "Many times a year the people call upon the Red Cross—just once a year the Red Cross calls on the people". During 1947, approximately $11,000,000 was allocated for disaster aid to help more than 300,000 persons. This is only one of its many peacetime services. This year the new National Blood Program is being started which is designed eventually to fill the nation's need for blood and blood derivatives—this program will cost over $9,000,000 in 1948. There has never been a similar peacetime program. Your many local Red Cross services of Health and Education, Home Nursing, First Aid, Water Safety, Nutrition, Junior Red Cross, still serve your communities—and need your contributions.

The Newton Red Cross campaign opens March 1st and concludes the end of March. Our people are again requested to support the Red Cross with their contributions as they have always done in the past.

Newton Teachers Would Revive Community Forum

The Newton Teachers Federation is studying the possibility of revival of the Newton Community Forum which was so popular and successful in pre-war years.

Members are aware that several church and club groups have been holding meetings of the forum-discussion type this winter. It is felt that a revival of the Community Forum would provide an opportunity for all interested Newton citizens to combine their efforts in a civic movement that would be stimulating and educational.

If such a program meets with popular acceptance, plans will be started for next year within a few weeks.

When, after constant vigilance, Lt. Van Roosen sighted an enemy submarine, he displayed resourcefulness and initiative in conning his vessel to a favorable position which enabled the Triton to deliver a fatal attack upon a 1,635-ton submarine. His outstanding skill and conscientious devotion to duty were in keeping with the highest traditions of the Naval Service." Lt. Van Roosen lost his life in action on February 16, 1943.

Red Cross Captains Meet at Gibbs' Home

A meeting of Captains for the forthcoming Red Cross Drive which begins next week was held at the home of Mrs. Donald Gibbs, 37 Claremont Street, Newton, on Tuesday, Feb. 24th. Mrs. Brittan Kennedy outlined some of the important facts in connection with the drive, she stressed the National Blood Bank and said there is to be a strong appeal for those who can, to donate their blood. If they do so between June 1948 and 1949 any member of that family who might need a transfusion will get it free.

The money raised by this drive will go towards helping the Armed Forces, to Disaster Funds, and the Blood Bank. As we all know the Red Cross is one of our best friends, when disaster strikes, the Red Cross is the first on the scene, so it is when we need a transfusion, they are always willing to do what they can, we get back what we give, so let us GIVE.

Those attending the meeting were: Mrs. Donald Gibbs, chairman; Mrs. C. S. Draper, Co-chairman; Captains Miss Barbara Estabrook, Mrs. Nelson Scott, Mrs. E. M. Horne, Miss Florence Bacon, Mrs. A. E. Gartland, Mrs. Philip Segal, Mrs. Wm. Tabler, Mrs. Stephen Currier, Mrs. John Cochran, and Mr. Frank Avantage.

Coffee and donuts brought a very pleasant morning to a close.

+ RED CROSS VOLUNTEER SERVICES +

EXTENSIVE LOCAL PROGRAM GIVES AID TO THE HOSPITALS AND TO THE COMMUNITY

"It is difficult to conceive of any time in the reasonably near future when the work of volunteer groups will not be of value."

There will always be the need for that extra measure of personalized attention that means so much to living human beings."

—General Omar N. Bradley, Army Chief of Staff.

VOLUNTEER SERVICES

MRS. P. EDWARD EDEN
Co-Chairman

(Photo by Hawthay Mabbett)
MRS. LEO E. CONCANNON
Co-Chairman

When we speak of Volunteer Services, we are referring to a network of neighborliness and human consideration which is close to the heart of a Red Cross Chapter. The purpose of this branch of Chapter activity is "to enroll and train a large number of volunteers for instant and experienced service and to maintain an organization whereby these volunteers can be mobilized in an emergency."

Although some phases of Volunteer Corps have functioned in Newton since the Chapter received its charter in 1918, its Volunteer Service organization came into being soon after Pearl Harbor. Since then it has provided the services of well-trained corps of volunteers to carry out the Chapter's program to the armed forces, veterans and this community, be it in time of peace, war or local disaster emergency.

Although the peace-time volunteer Service program is naturally not as expansive nor as "glamorous" as that of the war years, it is nevertheless just as important. There will always be civilian and government hospitals and there will always be patients in these hospitals. There will always be Community Agencies which Red Cross may assist in their work to ease the burdens of life for some of our fellow citizens. There will always be the individual person whose closed-in life can be brightened by the friendly visit of a Gray Lady.

Newton Chapter is deeply appreciative of the thousands of hours of volunteer service offered by hundreds of Newton's citizens during the war. It is truly grateful to those who have continued, under peace, to give of their time and effort in their chosen branches. There is no limit to the future opportunities for service to the men who fought for us and to our neighbors.

We never seem to reach the bottom of the barrel as far as volunteer needs are concerned—especially for Motor Service and Staff Aide Service. Considerable time may be given or perhaps only an hour or two a week. Training courses have been shortened somewhat, and information concerning any of the Services listed below will be gladly given. In some phase of Red Cross activity there is a place to use the interests, talents and abilities of every citizen of Newton who has the time and inclination to serve his neighbor. May we not lose sight of the vision of Henri Dunant, who with his small group of associates founded Red Cross less than 100 years ago.

MOTOR SERVICE

The work of Motor Service falls into three categories—members help to carry out routine Chapter duties, such as transporting material for Production, blood donors, and fund supplies. Should a disaster occur, Motor Service would be called out at once as it was in the recent break in a water main.

There is a continuous need for the transportation of Red Cross volunteers and entertainers to Cushing Veterans Administration Hospital.

Motor Service also cooperates with other agencies in taking patients who are incapable of using public conveyances to and from hospitals and clinics, sometimes is a daily assignment, over a period of time.

Motor service owns two station wagons and one car which are in use almost continuously.

NURSE'S AIDE SERVICE

If you have been a recent hospital patient, you probably have welcomed the services of the Volunteer Nurse's Aides.

The Nurse's Aide Program was started in Newton in October, 1941. Three hundred and nineteen women have trained as Aides in Newton with 50 active at present.

They have given approximately 200,000 hours to the Newton-Wellesley Hospital, the Peabody Home for Crippled Children, the Murphy General Hospital, Waltham Blood Bank, Cushing Veterans Administration Hospital, and the Convalescent Home of the Children's Hospital.

In case of disaster Nurse's Aides would assist the graduate nurses in the hospitals or emergency stations.

Who can measure the personal satisfaction when a sick and helpless patient comes out with, "This is the best back rub I have ever had—you're swell!"?

RECIPE FOR "GRAY LADY CAKE"—"Cream together one part spare time, with desire to help others. Add slowly one series of lectures on Gray Lady service given by Red Cross and Hospital. Add dash of enthusiasm, little courage, some originality for flavor. Combine thoroughly, steadily 'beating' in a few probational hours served in some hospital or community. Then add alternately large quantity of well-sifted patience with equal amount of milk of kindness. Pour into warm heart, bake well in pan of experience. When done, top with a thick frosting of dependability. Serve in generous portions."

The Gray Lady Corps was established during World War I when the workers were called "PINK LADIES" because of their uniforms. After the war, it was established as a Red Cross service in convalescent quarters of the home hospitals. From this it grew to its present widespread organization. Its members provide non-professional, friendly services for patients, those extra "luxury" services which a busy doctor or nurse, however willing, does not have the time to give.

Newton Gray Lady work is carried on in four units, two in hospitals, and two in the community.

The first group of volunteers to be trained at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital was a class of ten, this in 1940. Since then this Service has been an active and essential unit of the hospital's routine. It supplements the nursing service in many ways, which are highly important—in the wards, on the various floors, in the library, and in the children's department.

At Cushing Veterans Administration Hospital in Framingham, Gray Ladies are truly morale builders to the men and women who served in the wars of this country.

The day-time Gray Ladies are kept busy with a variety of duties—writing letters or reading to patients, doing errands, playing games with individuals or groups, or assisting with hobbies. A veteran's birthday is recognized by a party, planned and supervised by a Gray Lady. The evening Gray Ladies act as hostesses at the dances and entertainments for ambulatory patients and supervise Ward Entertainments for bed patients.

Community Gray Lady Service is the newest of Newton's Red Cross volunteer programs. It was organized a year ago for the purpose of serving those who are invalided within their homes, through the medium of handicraft and other suitable forms of recreation or diversion. It was developed at the request of the Newton District Nursing Association and the Board of Education. Most of the patients referred by the former agency are elderly, many of them arthritic. The hooked rugs, knitted garments, articles of leathercraft and shell jewelry made by them are a reward in themselves, but perhaps of more value is the bringing to the person's side a little of the outside world.

The second phase of Community Gray Lady work deals with referrals from the Board of Education. School pupils who are confined to their homes for two or more months are entitled to education by the City. The small number of hours or formal education which these children receive is being supplemented by craft instruction and recreational guidance. A group of 15 girls at Lasell Junior College have been trained and are most enthusiastic over their visits to the homes of these children, many of them victims of rheumatic fever, osteomyelitis and cerebral palsy. They are instructed in the crafts which all children love, as well as in story telling.

With the Red Cross always standing for friendliness, the local Chapter is pleased to be pioneering in this expression of neighborly activity.

ARTS and SKILLS SERVICE

Walking through the wards of Cushing Veterans Administration Hospital, you will see a group of veterans gathered around a fellow patient as he works on some craft project. Johnny Jones sits with a rug frame across his lap, Bill Smith is lacing a leather wallet for his wife, and Joseph Cohen, bolstered up by pillows, is painting a design on a jewelry box for his girl friend. Al Pratt is completing a stencilled border on a runner. In the neuropsychiatric ward a volunteer is helping Bob Kelly as he paints a mural. Nearby sits Jack Morgan making a water color.

In the workshop section, one may find Fred White, a paraplegic. He is using a small blowtorch as he fashions a silver pin and earring set for someone at home. At another bench, Luigi D'Antonio is hammering out an ash tray, and across the hall Dale Southwick models a pair of clay book ends for his mother.

Cheerfully there circulates among them some of Newton's green smocked volunteers, members of the Arts and Skills Service. Their part is a vital one in the winning of this long battle back to health and happiness.

CANTEEN SERVICE

(Photo by Hawthay Mabbett)
MRS. ERNEST H. MCCLURE
Chairman

The objectives of this service are two-fold: first, to provide family or mass feeding in the event of epidemics, disaster or war; and secondly, to sponsor and direct practical community activities related to buying, preparing and serving of food.

At the present time, Newton's Canteen Service is functioning evenings and Sunday afternoons at Cushing Veterans Administration Hospital in Framingham, preparing and serving refreshments to the men in the wards and recreation hall. Weekly dances are held for the ambulatory veterans where the cordiality of the canteeners is as much enjoyed as the food they serve. Newton's Canteen Chairman is the Co-ordinator for all Canteen service rendered Cushing by the participating Chapters.

The Cafeteria for Chapter House workers, operated under the Chairman's supervision, is greatly appreciated.

Whenever the Bloodmobile unit visits Newton, Canteen Service is always on hand to serve meals to the doctors, nurses and volunteer workers, and to provide the proper refreshment to the persons having just donated blood.

PRODUCTION SERVICE

Production is the manufacturing branch of Red Cross, and the oldest Volunteer Service. It is well known for having made thousands of surgical dressings, knitted articles and sewn garments for federal and civilian hospitals and for overseas relief.

Our overseas quota is now completed, but community needs are always present. Locally, Newton women sew for various community agencies making the always-needed layettes; for the District Nursing Association in making aprons and bags for their nurses; for the hospitals in providing such items as hot water bottle covers and bathrobes for use in the X-ray rooms; and for Cushing, stitching aprons, bibs, scarves, etc., on which the patients will later stencil designs.

New quotas will soon be coming through.

STAFF AIDE SERVICE

Staff Aide Service provides a group to do the clerical work that is such a necessary part of regular Chapter activity. This consists of typing, keeping records, operating the telephone system, and acting as receptionists. These workers assist both paid and volunteer personnel at the Chapter House.

During the annual Fund Drive in March and the visits of the Massachusetts Bloodmobile, extra assistance is always greatly in demand.

Staff Aides also serve at Cushing Veterans Administration Hospital in Framingham in the Red Cross Field Director's Office, in Veterans Administration Offices, and in the Library. They also assist in the Volunteer office at Newton-Wellesley Hospital.

Staff Aide help is also available to other Community agencies from time to time.

Red Cross Drive

This week marks the opening of the Annual Drive of American Red Cross. All across the length and breadth of this country volunteer workers will be calling on their friends and neighbors to give to this organization which in peace and war and in time of disaster stands ready to lend a helping hand to all who need assistance regardless of race, color or religion. This organization which serves the community in many invaluable and unsung ways asks for money just once a year to continue its great work!

Here in Newton just as in all other communities this week means the beginning of this appeal for funds. The goal in this city is $75,000 Mr. Charles B. Floyd General Chairman and Mr. John S. Whittemore announced. This is a small sum indeed when it means assurance for you and your family that you will receive friendly, understanding help when you need it! This money can only be attained, this goal reached if YOU and I and EVERYONE OF US... GIVES and GIVES generously.

Perhaps you will say that there is no need to give at the moment. There is no war, no disaster. That is true, but we never know when disaster will strike... Remember death, tragedy and hardship walk hand in hand with fire and flood. When disaster occurs as it did in Maine this fall the Red Cross was on hand easing the suffering... assisting in the evacuations... and later in rehabilitation.

In like manner the Red Cross helps the community in many ways every day. You may not realize how often and how quietly the Red Cross fills the needs of the members of the community. The Red Cross in cooperation with the Massachusetts Department of Public Health collects blood for the state blood bank... The Red Cross drives patients to and from hospitals and clinics... The Red Cross Gray Ladies and Nurses Aides assist and lighten the work of overburdened doctor and nursing staffs of the civilian and veterans hospitals and shut-ins at home... The Junior Red Cross activities solve the problem of constructive outlets for adolescent energy... The Red Cross furnishes Home Nursing courses and helps the community and all its members in many more invaluable ways.

Keep this in mind when the volunteer solicitor comes to your door and asks for your donation to the annual fund drive. Remember the Red Cross always stands ready to help you... in return help them to carry on their great work with your money. We must meet our Newton quota!

This Week in Washington

Republican Congressional leaders have been mapping a series of legislative acts which will begin parading across President Truman's desk for presidential signature or veto—by March 1.

First of these—the Knutson tax bill and various appropriation measures already have been emerged from committee laboratories, and are ready for congressional action. The big flood of appropriation bills are just now being reported out of committee.

When Republican lawmakers returned to the Capitol after delivering Lincoln Day speeches in nearly every state, they were enthusiastic about public approval of the painstaking manner in which Congress is sifting and analyzing the proposed Marshall Plan for aid to Europe.

In view of the current drop in commodity prices, people are glad Congress has refused to rubber stamp enactment of requests by President Truman for power to establish another OPA. If the 80th Congress were a New Deal "rubber stamp" Congress, the Marshall plan and price controls long since would have been law.

House and Senate appropriation committees have been holding hearings on the President's proposed $40 billion budget for several weeks. The GOP proposes to cut that budget by several billion and Sen. Styles Bridges (R-N.H.) and Rep. John Taber (R-N.Y.) chairmen of the Senate and House appropriation committees, indicate that nearly all of the President's proposals for new spending would be rejected.

President Truman originally called for an outlay of $39.7 billion for fiscal 1949 but has already increased this by recommendations seeking supplemental appropriations.

For example, he gave out a figure of $6.8 billion for foreign aid, but when pressed by Congress for an estimate on the complete program, he divulged a figure of $9.3 billion!

Republican leaders continue to give firm assurance to taxpayers that relief from wartime tax burdens will be forthcoming during the present session of Congress. And they intend to do enough budget paring to accomplish that objective.

In the old days, the man who saved money was a miser; nowadays he's a wonder.

A recession is a period in which you tighten your belt. In a depression you have no belt to tighten, and when you have no pants to hold up, it's a panic.

Newton in the Past

From the files of the Newton Graphic

55 Years Ago - February 24, 1893

THE SNOW IN NEWTON—Such a week of snow storms has been seen in Newton only by the older inhabitants. Others have read about streets being blocked by the snow, but this present week there have been many streets, especially in the south part of the city, where the snow was eight feet deep on the level.

NEWTON—Mr. Geo. L. Pearson, while driving on Monday night, froze both hands, and they have since been very painful, but it is hoped that there will be no serious consequences. It was one of the coldest nights of the winter.

NEWTONVILLE—The tracks of the Newton and Boston street railway company were kept clear Wednesday, notwithstanding the heavy snow fall. The ploughs were kept in active service and the cars were run, although not regular.

NEWTON CENTRE—Two brick chimneys will be built around or in place of the iron ones now in use in Dudley's block, corner of Beason and Station streets. Mr. Bliss will put in a four horse power engine and the insurance ratings will not be increased, but perhaps reduced.

50 Years Ago - February 25, 1898

NEWTON—There was an exciting runaway on Washington and Adams streets, Tuesday afternoon, which for a time caused a great commotion, but fortunately no serious damage or loss of life resulted. About 4 o'clock while letter-carrier Wm. Keefe was driving in on his rounds, making collections at the different boxes, the accident took place. He had left the horse standing on Adams street while he unlocked a box. The horse started, and before Keefe could grab the reins the animal started out on its way.

Turning into Washington street it made its way toward the square, narrowly averting a collision with several passing vehicles. Arriving at Daniel's stable it dashed into the yard, coming into contact with several carriages and causing great havoc among wagons and carriages.

How long will it be before the Newton Hospital receives a gift of the much desired electric lighting plant? Not very long from past experience. There is no better evidence of the hold which this splendid institution has on the hearts and pockets of Newton citizens than the quick response with which its every appeal for financial aid is met.

AUBURNDALE—The Commonwealth avenue street railway company, it is said, is considering the application of 60 would-be employees who will probably be given work next summer.

35 Years Ago - February 28, 1913

AUTO BURNED—An auto owned and operated by Augustus Sheppard of 14 Gardner street, Cambridge, was burned Wednesday morning on Washington street, opposite the Woodland Golf Club. The driver had just lifted the hood to ascertain the trouble, when there was a sudden burst of flame. The fire apparatus was called out, but the machine was a total loss on its arrival. The cause of the fire was due to a leak in the gasoline pipe.

NEWTON—The George Hudson Mills, located for the past 39 years at Bemis, will soon move to the Oliver Building, 316 Washington street.

Chicago doctor opines that the average woman loves a cave man. But most of them have to be content with flat dwellers.

25th Annual Boys' Club Hoop Tourney Begins on March 15

The 25th Annual Amateur Basketball Tournament sponsored by the Boys' Clubs of Boston will begin Monday, March 15, at the Eben D. Jordan Memorial gymnasium, Charlestown, under the supervision of "Bill" Duffy, physical director.

Teams will be classified in six divisions according to weight and age. The classes are as follows: Seniors, weight unlimited; Intermediates, 130 to 145 pounds; Juniors, 115 to 130 pounds and not to exceed 18 years of age; Cubs, 100 to 115 pounds, for 16-year-old players and younger; Midgets, 90 to 100 pounds, and Pygmies, 90 pounds and under; the last two classes being restricted to boys 14 years of age or younger.

The five heaviest players of a team will determine the division in which a team will compete. There will be an entry fee of 25 cents for each player. Prizes for winners and runner-up of each class will be the same as in previous years, namely individual basketball charms.

Applications may be obtained by writing to the Charlestown Boys' Club, 15 Green street, Charlestown 29, Massachusetts.

Politics With Color

by P. W. C.

(The opinions expressed in this column are the writer's own, and do not necessarily reflect the views or policy of this newspaper.—Editor's Note.)

Patrick on Air

Transferring abruptly from my car radio, which was reporting on Good Government Day in the State House on Feb. 20, I hurried into my house to hear the balance of the program, only to be advised that I was just in time to hear former Rep. Loomis Patrick participate in a four-cornered broadcast on another station, dealing with the question of a third party in the 1948 election. The Newtonian was representing the G.O.P., a gentleman named Wells from up Worcester way handled the Democratic angle, La Rue Brown of Boston took care of the independents and Oliver S. Allen of Arlington spoke for the Wallace forces. This, incidentally, is the same Mr. Allen who ran for Congress as a Democrat in the fall of 1946 against the Republican incumbent, Rep. Edith Nourse Rogers of Lowell. Mrs. Rogers defeated him by a vote of 98,488 to 38,575.

What intrigued me about the brief part of the program which I heard was the vocal capacities of the other three gentlemen who lived outside of Newton. Had it not been for the repeated suggestion of the moderator to the effect that he would be very much interested in hearing Mr. Patrick's views, I doubt if the latter would have been heard at all, except, of course, for the opening remark by the four participants in the round-table discussion. It seemed to me that he did a good job for the G.O.P., especially in connection with the rather unfair criticism which we hear so frequently about the party's utter lack of liberality in connection with both domestic and foreign issues.

On the question of a third party, you heard about what you would expect. The more conservative men naturally presented the case for a continuance of our two-party system, which has, by and large, worked so successfully over a long period of years. The liberal and radical gentlemen made it clear that there was no sound reason why we should not have a third party this year. So far as your columnist is concerned, the odds appear to be against the establishment of a three-party system in the United States. This, however, does not preclude the possibility of one of the two major parties now operating. Whereas a decade or so ago it looked extremely dark for the popularity of the late Franklin D. Roosevelt, today we have a situation confronting the Democratic party which ought to make President Truman hurry home from his vacation. Assaulted by Henry Wallace on one side and by the Southern Democrats on the other, the path of the Democratic party is strewn with rocks and thorns rather than roses. If Mr. Truman can continue to hold together the many divergent elements of his party he is a bigger man than many people consider him today.

Presidential Preference Bill
On Feb. 5, in my opening paragraph on the Presidential Preference Bill, which had passed the House and was headed for the Senate, I predicted that this bill would very likely be defeated and that there would NOT be a roll-call vote, which, of course, puts our Senators "on the spot."

I was correct in my pessimistic hunch. The Senate defeated the bill and there was no roll-call vote. Why, gentlemen?

One more thought concerning this matter. The Presidential primary is now a short two months ahead of us. Assuming that the Brookline-Allston team of Representatives, who have indicated their intention of running for two delegate positions from the Tenth Congressional district, (including Newton) stand pat and decline to withdraw, there will be one of the hottest fights ever witnessed in this area. The new team of Rep. Herter, our Congressman and former Mayor Sinclair Weeks, who is now the G.O.P. National Committeeman from this state, will have to work feverishly to get out a much greater vote than usually turns out for these primaries. The vote seldom averages more than 6% of the total registered vote. If that should be the case this April, the other team, consisting of Reps. Allen of Brookline and Lobel of Allston, might make it a very, very close contest.

Now, let us suppose that the Presidential Preference Bill had been passed by our State Senate. Is it not reasonable to suppose that several thousand extra voters would take the trouble to go to the polls, simply to register their Presidential preference? And, if we take a gloomy point of view and consider the chance that Messrs. Herter and Weeks go down to defeat in a pitifully small vote, whose fault would it be? Would it not be the fault of those G.O.P. bigwigs who, for one reason or another, chose to deprive the people of an opportunity to tell the world who their favorite candidate for President is? Think that over, please.

Henry Wallace

Somebody asked me the other day what I thought the late Franklin D. Roosevelt would think of his former Vice-President if he were alive today. Well, I wonder, for his own sake, I think it is a blessing that he is no longer with us. The more Henry Wallace talks and the more he shows a disposition to accept political support from any and all sources, the more I am impressed by his menacing affect on our present form of government. One trouble is that Wallace is anything but dumb and innocent. He is clever, cute and smart to the ninth degree. People should be aware of this fact before it is too late.

There is one thought which I would like to leave with the Republican leaders. If they are kidding themselves that the startling victory of the Wallace candidate for Congress in the special election in New York means that Wallace will have the same success everywhere and that, therefore, the G.O.P. can nominate any old candidate for President, they are making a terrible mistake. If the G.O.P. nominates a long-time isolationist and ultra-conservative like Senator Taft of Ohio, simply because they think that Mr. Truman will be a push-over this fall, they will get a rude awakening at the November polls.

On Tuesday evening March 9, at 8:15 at the New England Mutual Hall, 225 Carendon Street, Boston, the Guild of the Holy Name of West Roxbury, is sponsoring a presentation of the famous Passion Play, "The Man of Sorrows".

This production, now in its twelfth season has been widely acclaimed wherever it has been presented. This drama is expertly staged and offers unique and startling lighting effect. Costumes of many rich colors add to its beauty and make it one of the most elaborate stage presentations seen outside the professional theatre. Mrs. Walter Englert of Edgebrook Rd., West Roxbury is Chairman of the Committee and Mrs. John P. Englert is co-chairman, assisted by the following committee: Mrs. William Wood, Walter Arnold, Patrick Osborne, John Carey, Patrick Flynn, Otto Vey, George Kirvan, James Mulvey, John Bride, John Mahoney, John A. Mrs. Florence R. Kluckhohn will address the Waban Woman's Club on Monday, March 1, at 2 p.m. Her topic will be "Modern Woman's Dilemma."

Mrs. Kluckhohn is Assistant Professor of Sociology at Wellesley College and her lecture is the latest sociological slant on the modern wife, mother and business-woman, home and family. The facts are as intriguing as the title and very surprising.

A business meeting will precede the program and Mrs. William M. Barber, President of the Club, will preside. A social hour will follow the program.

'What About Women Jurors' Topic of Next WCRB Forum

The topic of this week's WCRB forum "What About Your Community" will be "What About Women Jurors." These forum programs presented as a public service by the Waltham Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars are heard every Sunday afternoon from 1:30 to 2:00 on Station WCRB, 1330 on your dial.

The moderator of the program this week will be Josephine U. Lawless, Assistant to the City Solicitor to the City of Waltham. One of the participants in the forum will be State Representative Margaret L. Spear of Newton, the Chairman of the House Committee on Public Welfare and the Clerk of the House Committee on Education. Representative Spear is the co-author of a bill now pending before the legislature to permit women to serve on juries.

Another of the participants will be Attorney Anthony Julian of Watertown. Attorney Julian is a former State Representative and is President of the Waltham, Watertown, Weston Bar Association.

The other two members of the panel will be Jeannette C. Chisholm Sullivan and Thomas F. Dury of the firm of Harvey, Bannan and Duffy, both practicing attorneys.

It will be recalled that at the last State election a referendum favoring permitting women to serve on juries was approved by a substantial majority. The referendum was in the nature of an instruction to the State Senate and the State House Representative. The legislature now has a bill authorizing women jurors under consideration and the forum discussion of the subject should be very helpful in presenting the problems as well as the values of having women serve on juries.

—March is Red Cross time... time to give your support to the services which are offered in your name... because you are the Red Cross! It's the neighborly things that count. Be a good neighbor... Give to the 1948 Red Cross Fund!

"Many times a year the people turn to the Red Cross—once a year the Red Cross turns to the people; that time is now."

Statement by President Truman in March, 1947

Now...once again it's Red Cross Time!

Out of human suffering the Red Cross was born.

At the scenes of human suffering the Red Cross takes its place:

Emergency is its call to service. The unpredictable disaster—

the uncontrollable flood and raging fire, the stealthy epidemic—when these strike, your Red Cross quickly reaches the victims, to comfort, sustain and restore.

The Red Cross must be prepared to spring instantly into action, any time, anywhere.

And the Red Cross will be ready. It will be ready because your generous dollars always have made possible its merciful work.

For the sake of the unsuspecting thousands who will be stricken this year... for the sake of those destined for injury and anguish... the Red Cross now turns to you.

It's March—and Red Cross time. This is the annual appeal the Red Cross makes so that your humanity may be spread throughout the coming year, among all—irrespective of race, color or creed.

You'll help again, won't you?

IT'S YOUR RED CROSS...KEEP IT GOING

Give Generously!

Our State House Delegation Reports

By P. W. CARTER

Earlier this month the Newton Graphic came to the conclusion that the voters of this city would appreciate it if they could hear from the lips of their representatives on Beacon Hill something about their accomplishments to date, their reason for running for office, etc. Accordingly, a brief questionnaire was sent to our State Senator, Richard H. Lee and our four Representatives, Rep. Margaret Spear and Reps. Rawson, Whitmore and Whittemore. The replies of these public servants are extremely interesting and enlightening, despite the fact that they were uniformly humble and modest. There is so much material of real importance to comment on that it seems best to handle the replies in two separate articles. This week we shall publish merely the list of four questions asked of our solons together with their replies. Next week, if possible, we will discuss some of the background comment of all five members of our delegation. Incidentally, this comment, along with the detailed explanation of the reasons for giving their answers to the four questions, will give our readers food for thought.

We will take the four questions in order and give underneath each question the replies of the five members of our delegation.

No. 1. What do you consider your most outstanding accomplishment since you have been up on Beacon Hill?

Senator Lee—"I have no idea. Perhaps none of my accomplishments has been outstanding."

Rep. Spear—"The longer I serve in the House of Representatives, the surer I am that one legislator cannot rightfully take too much credit to himself for any piece of legislation. There are so many factors involved and so many other legislators concerned in passing any bill into law. I did sponsor the bill creating a Board of Education and last year carried the bill into the House when it became law."

Rep. Rawson—"It is not easy to answer your first question because I have had several interests in the General Court. The improvement of the Election Laws has been my achievement which is probably the outstanding one. Some people may think that my outstanding job was the joint authorship with Senator Clapm of the Public Safety Act of 1943, which came out of our several weeks struggle with the Cocoanut Grove mess of 1942 and Leverett Saltonstall's injunction to see to it that such a disaster couldn't happen again."

Rep. Whittemore—"Whatever, if any, may have been my accomplishments since going to Beacon Hill, I cannot classify them as individual or personal. I like to believe that I have contributed to positive group or party action for the passage or rejection of proposed legislation. Whatever bills I have introduced have had to do with the city of Newton; one last year which had to do with retaining Newton's contributory pension system, amending it to bring in all the benefits which are in the state system, but at the same time to allow Newton to run its own plan, which was one of the first to be established and which, in my opinion, is more soundly financed."

Rep. Whittemore—"Taken from a phone conversation as the Representative was about to leave town on business. Rep. Whittemore considers his appointment to a special insurance commission by the then Governor Saltonstall, prior to his election to the Legislature, as a very important matter. The same holds true of his present position as Clerk of the Insurance Committee. He considers the insurance committee and the taxation committee to be two of the most important committees in the Legislature and he has, of course, special qualifications for service on the former."

No. 2. Have you any special objective for the present session or has it already been accomplished?

Senator Lee—"I have several objectives; too many to recite. Among them are the following: A. Promote a sound housing bill. B. Permit Boston citizens to vote on changing their charter. C. Permit voters in towns a vote on proposed race-tracks in their towns. D. Remove restrictions on competition between margarine and butter. E. Allow insurance companies to invest in bonds of the world bank. (This last has been accomplished.)"

Rep. Spear—"This year I am interested in the Recess Commission to revise and recodify the Welfare laws. I am Vice-Chairman of this commission. I also have a special objective to do something constructive about the deplorable lack of facilities in our mental hospitals for the care of our feeble-minded children."

Rep. Rawson—"My objective for this session is to do the best job I know how to do as chairman of Election Laws and as Clerk of Military Affairs and Public Safety; also, to vote as intelligently as I can on the rest of the matters that arise."

Rep. Whittemore—"This year I have introduced, with the approval of the Mayor and the Board of Aldermen, another bill which will permit acceptance by the city of part of the pension laws which they did not previously accept, and the deadline for which expired at the end of 1946. These are, of course, special bills. I have not sponsored or introduced any general bills. As a freshman member, I have made every effort to study and analyze legislation proposed by others, in order to assist intelligently in working for its enactment or rejection."

Rep. Whittemore—"This representative is spending much time and energy on the work of the Conservation Committee, of which he is Clerk. The conservation department has been under fire for quite a time and a reorganization of the entire department is being effected."

No. 3. Why did you want to go to the Legislature in the first place?

Senator Lee—"To get back into civic activities after nearly five years in the service."

Rep. Spear—"I did not go to the Legislature because I am a feminist, but because I have always been interested in legislation."

Rep. Rawson—"The reason why I went to the House in the first place is that I was urged to run in the 1942 primary by people in whom I believe and who were quite anxious that I do so."

Rep. Whittemore—"I ran for the Legislature in 1946 at the request of people in the district who asked me to be a candidate. Having served on the Board of Aldermen, I felt as if perhaps I had some training which would be of use in the Legislature. Having lived within the district practically all of my life, I believe I know my neighbors and what they want."

Rep. Whittemore—"I believe we'd have a much better government if more business men went into politics. And I feel very strongly that it's a civic duty for a business man to devote part of his time to politics."

No. 4. Can you make any suggestions for keeping your constituents more fully and more regularly informed about your record as it progresses from week to week?

Senator Lee—"I would suggest some changes in legislative procedure to make it easier to follow proposed laws. Rather than two dockets, one in the House, the other in the Senate, list all bills on ONE docket, so that there will be no duplication, and index them by committee and subject. I think that the State House news reporters do a reasonably good job, and I expect that editors know what their readers want printed."

Rep. Spear—"No suggestions."

Rep. Rawson—"When I first came to Newton John Brimblecom used to have in the Graphic a column headed 'Under the Gilded Dome,' which told interestingly what went on at the State House and mentioned any part Newton's contingent had in it. I always thought that a good idea."

Rep. Whittemore—"A legislator, in my opinion, desires to know how his constituents feel, for he cannot correctly represent them if he does not. It is most difficult to get expressions of opinion from the people. As you may recall, Mrs. Spear and I invited as many people as would fill the hall we hired last year to discuss the tax program proposed by the Governor. Officers of many organizations in our district were contacted and requested to invite people to the discussion. We wanted to hear their views and ideas and to get a 'feel' of district sentiment. In spite of the controversies and publicity that the tax program aroused generally, only a handful of people came to our discussion. — It is only through newspapers such as yours, public meetings, forums or house gatherings, that public matters can be brought before the people. If your paper published the committee hearings scheduled for a week ahead, and added, perhaps, a brief explanation of the bills to be heard, some interest might be aroused. I feel quite sure the Newton delegation would be pleased to record how they felt about the bills from week to week, if that would be helpful."

He would be very glad indeed to participate in group meetings, to be held twice each legislative session, or oftener, for the purpose of meeting his constituents and learning their views and desires. He thinks that a meeting about six to eight weeks after the Legislature has convened and another one about two months later, would be most helpful to all concerned."

NEWTON COUNCIL OF CHURCHES

A Series of Sermons by Newton Ministers

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH, NEWTONVILLE

ON KEEPING LENT

A Sermon by the Reverend Wilbur J. Kingwill

The growing observance of Lent among Christians of every name in this country is one of the phenomena of our contemporary life. Not so many years ago Lent was observed only by Roman Catholics, Lutherans and Episcopalians—and even among many in the Episcopal Church it was regarded as being something peculiarly "High Church." To the Protestant Church, generally, Lent simply had ceased to exist.

Happily today all this is changed. Methodists and Presbyterians, Baptists and Congregationalists vie with members of the liturgical churches in their special Lenten services. Noon-day services during Lent are held under the auspices of interdenominational ministerial associations all over the country and the Three Hour Service on Good Friday has become the possession of all Christian people.

This is all very much to the good. Protestant Christianity, and I include my Church, has only too often retained the historic feasts of the Church and forgotten her days of fasting and preparation.

We have come into and are now well into the era of "individualism," the era in which the doctrine of private judgment holds sway. Living in this era and believing in its doctrine, as we do, we feel that we have a right to pick and choose as we will. In the process of picking and choosing, we have been accustomed to Christmas without Advent, Easter without Lent, Sunday without Friday. AND the result has been a religion that is not strong enough to endure severe trial, for one can not take the hard things out of religion and have true Christianity left, any more than one could take the steel frame out of a modern office building and have a structure that would endure for long.

So we of the liturgical churches welcome our own return and the return of the other churches to the age-old disciplinary season of Lent.

Lent is a time of Discipline and of Thought and Prayer and of Renewal.

Many, when they think of Lent, no doubt think of a certain period, some 47 days long, when people are asked by their church to give up certain things and to give that which they save to some particular cause in the church. That is a discipline and certainly is one of the finer forms. Give up, sacrifice, give that others less fortunate may have. That is one side.

There is another side, a little more positive, to the discipline one should voluntarily put himself under during Lent. One is

REV. WILLIAM J. KINGWILL

The Rev. Wilbur J. Kingwill, Rector of St. John's Church, Newtonville

The Rev. Wilbur John Kingwill, who became the Rector of St. John's Episcopal Church in Newtonville on December 11, 1947, was born in Grand Rapids, Michigan, March 31, 1911. He was the eldest son of George D. and Clara A. (Smith) Kingwill. He went to school in Grand Rapids and was graduated from the Grand Rapids Junior College with an Associate in Arts in History degree in 1932. He then attended Calvin College, Grand Rapids and graduated in 1935 with a Bachelor of Arts in Philosophy degree. He attended the Episcopal Theological School, Cambridge, Massachusetts from 1935 to 1937 and was graduated with a Bachelor of Divinity degree and ordained in the chapel of the school in June, 1939. He married Miss Alice Rattray Giger, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. A. George Giger of Cambridge and became Candidate-in-Charge of Grace Church, Holland, Michigan in September, 1937.

His charge since his graduation from the Episcopal Theological School in 1939 have been: Assistant Rector, Parish on Martha's Vineyard, Massachusetts, 1939-1940; Rector, Church of the Holy Nativity, South Weymouth, Massachusetts and Priest-in-Charge, St. John's, Holbrook, Massachusetts from 1940 through 1943; Chaplain, U. S. Naval Reserve, 1943; Rector, Saint John's, Lowell, 1943-1947.

asked not only to give up but to take on. Take on thing one should be doing but never has gotten around to doing. Take on more regular church attendance. Take on extra duties and obligations. Take on more of the well-rounded church life.

In Lent we are asked to discipline ourselves by giving up certain things and by taking on other things that we may be more fit to serve our Lord Jesus Christ.

In Lent we are asked to have thoughts for the things of Christ. To put aside thoughts of man and particularly of ourselves and to think Christ's thoughts with Him. To give up, for example, the reading of light and worldly things and to take on the reading of things more religious.

Wellesley Summer Theater to be Continued This Year

The Wellesley Summer Theatre and School, America's first integrated professional theatre and school, proved so successful last year that the trustees of Wellesley College have voted to establish it as a regular summer institute of the College.

In announcing the action of the trustees, President Mildred McAfee Horton stressed the two-fold purpose of the Wellesley Summer Theatre and School. "It provides valuable professional theatre training for a large group of students, and at the same time it offers a legitimate summer theatre to the residents of Greater Boston and surrounding communities," she said.

Mrs. Horton stated that the theatre and school will operate this summer from July 5 to August 14, with 50 men and women students receiving professional theatre training. The theatre group, composed of guest stars, professional actors and students, will present a five-week season of plays.

Eldon Winkler will again serve as Executive Director of the Wellesley Summer Theatre and School, assisted by a staff of outstanding directors from Yale, Dartmouth, Amherst and the University of Texas. In addition to supervising the major productions, the staff will conduct classes in all phases of the theatre, television and radio, while directing the students in laboratory plays.

ligious. To give up childish things and become a man in Christ—a true Christian.

In Lent we are asked to undertake a renewal of our spiritual life. To make a real self-inventory in the spirit of penitence. To search out in our own heart our besetting sin and to devote Lent to a determined effort to root it out of our life. To find in the Church and through the Church and its services aids in giving up this besetting sin, this complex if you wish to call it that, and to find there helps in taking on more Christlike characteristics.

Lent means for us an opportunity when we can through fasting and prayer and giving, cleanse our souls and lives of the dirt and debris of our past, when we can through fasting and prayer and giving give up our foolish ways and learn to walk in the way of the Cross.

Lent means for us an opportunity for renewal, for a renewal of our spiritual souls and bodies that we may worthily welcome our Lord Jesus Christ on His Easter Morning.

Church League Basketball

by Ted Friedrichs

On Saturday, February 21, Central Congregational Church clinched the championship of the League with a win over Second Congregational. The score was 31-13. High scorer for Central was Rawlings, with 12 points. Central has won 10 and lost none. Second Congregational, its nearest rival has won 7, lost 2. High scorer for Second last week was Kreider, with 6 points. (Central has one more game to play).

Newtonville Methodist beat Elliot Congregational—30 to 10. Newtonville has won 5, lost 4. High scorer for Methodist was Studly with 17 points. Elliot Congregational has won 2 lost 8. High scorer was Sebley with 4 points.

The game of the day was Messiah vs. Waban Union. The first half was slow with only six points being scored, 4 for Messiah and 2 for Union. Diminutive Paul Hibsher did all the scoring for Messiah in the first half, with two spectacular shots. Paul is a seventh grader. The last half was a thriller with both teams playing hard. Two minutes before the end of the game the referee called an automatic "time out". The score was 13-12, in favor of Messiah. Though the Union players tried hard, there was no scoring done in those last two minutes. Donny Hill, a brilliant playmaker, deserves much credit for helping Messiah win its first game in 9 tries. He shows much basketball sense and should be top material in a few years. (Donny is in the eighth grade). He was high scorer with 5 points. Kopf was high scorer for Union with 6 points. Union has won 2 lost 8.

Weston—

Weston spoke of the work of the Board and the time given to the consideration of library matters, reported on conferences of the Library Board with the Newton Planning Board. Judge Weston stated, "The building of a new Main Library Building, the replacement of certain of our branch library quarters with new branch library buildings, the expanding and improving of our present library facilities are urgent matters of essential city planning and must receive fair and proper consideration in relation to the educational needs of our community."

Thanks were expressed to Newton citizens who gave books, periodicals, pictures, musical records thus sharing in and aiding the work of the library. The Garden Clubs of Newton, Newton Center, Newtonville, Auburndale were thanked for their assistance in beautifying the library grounds. It was noted that the library buildings were cared for as to repairs and improvements by the Buildings Department of the City and the grounds cared for by the Forestry Division of the Street Department.

In speaking of salaries the following comment was made, "The Board of Trustees realizes that the schedule of salaries paid to the staff of the Newton Free Library is regrettably low and is interested and concerned to improve this condition. It is the ability and spirit of the library staff which sets the standard of library service."

Librarian Harold A. Wooster pointed out in his report that "The citizens of today have increased educational and recreational needs and an important part of these can be supplied in the most efficient manner by the use of public library facilities." The library was described as an unique and outstanding public agency for the diffusion of knowledge, an essential, and strengthening institution of democracy. The Newton Free Library has just completed its 77th year of service to Newton.

The genesis of the library goes back one hundred years to the Newton Book Club formed in January, 1848 by members "desirous of promoting the cause of Intelligence and Literature, a cause whose support is still the basic purpose and reason of the library. In spite of the competition for the time and attention of readers it was reported that here was an increased use of the library in 1947, "a larger book circulation, a marked increase in student and reference use, increased use of the Newton Library Hall, increased borrowing of musical records, increased use of periodical filed."

The work of the library was analyzed under the headings of Finance, Reading Material, Care of Buildings, Library Staff and Organization. The expenditures of the City of Newton for the library budget in 1947 was $133,618.09; the sum of $10,723.93 was returned to the City Treasury in fines and collections, library fines alone totaled $9,862.17. In addition to the library budget, the Buildings' Department expended $14,529.38 for the repair of library buildings and the Forestry Division $3,524.62 for the care of grounds. In connection with the standards as recommended by the American Library Association the sum expended for public library service in Newton, "is above the $1.50 per capita which 'may permit limited, though inadequate service,' less than the $2.25 per capita needed to 'render reasonably good service' and far under the $3 per capita necessary to 'render services of high quality.'"

In regard to Reading Material Newton expended $20,940.46 from the City appropriation in 1947, and an additional amount of $4176.96 from income from funds. "This amounts to an expenditure of approximately one dollar per registered borrower or 28c per capita." If the public library is considered as a public book club its value to library card holders is approximately as follows: the average borrower borrows thirty books per year, these will average in value from two to three dollars or from sixty to ninety dollars a year in reading material supplied.

In 1947, 720,826 volumes were borrowed for home use, this is an increase of 6027 volumes, the increase in the item adult non-fiction was 10,649, there was a small decrease of 1791 volumes in juvenile circulation.

Repairs to library buildings were an important item last year, the largest improvements were repairs to the Main Library, enlarging the size of the library room at Newton Upper Falls, and the making of the Library hall in the basement of the Plummer-Memorial-Auburndale Branch Library. The library now has two attractive assembly halls.

Library salaries in Massachusetts are lower than the recommendations of the American Library Association, recent library graduates are securing positions in other states and the libraries of this state have had many difficulties in maintaining a properly qualified staff. The Newton library has had many staff changes in recent years. Tribute was paid to the work of Miss Mabel A. Singleton, Branch Librarian at Newton Highlands from 1908 until her death in March, 1947.

A number of important surveys and studies are underway checking as to whether public libraries are proving adequate to their present opportunities. The findings of these studies are being considered by the Newton Board of Library Trustees.
